Irate Housewives Barricade Street

'I'M TELLING YOU!' — Mrs. Ruth Bowers shakes finger for emphasis as she tells Police Officer Richard Camper why Myrtle Avenue residents barricaded their street this morning. Backing Mrs. Bowers' stand are Mrs. Joseph Serna (left) and Mrs. Walter Eisenegger. Street barricades were placed as result of long complaints over use of Myrtle Avenue for hauling gravel. Angry Over Trucks

The City of San Rafael doesn't move fast enough for residents on Myrtle Avenue, who decided today to take the law into their own hands.

Housewives barricaded the Lincoln Avenue entrance to their street and defied a gravel contractor to move his trucks.

"We were desperate," Mrs. Joseph Serna of 115 Myrtle Avenue said. "For almost two years our street has been used for these gravel hauls. They've been using the area above Glen Park Avenue for a quarry under the vague plan of a subdivision.

SPEEDING CLAIMED

"The trucks have been speeding, dumping dirt on our street, and we've been given no consideration. We proved to the city planning commission that their use permit has been violated, but we've been given the run-around."

Dominic Selmi, city engineer, explained: "The Merz Brothers Co. obtained a use permit for hauling the gravel, but it was suspended when we checked on possible danger from the excavation. The grade they built is steeper than the condition imposed in the permit. But the planning commission can only recommend revoking the permit after a hearing. We had to restore the permit when we found that soil conditions were safe for continued excavation."

About 30 families on Myrtle Avenue and Glen Park Avenue have protested that dust in summer and mud in winter has been "impossible." They say the street has been narrowed, and Myrtle Avenue is unsafe for children.

'TORN UP STREETS'

"They've torn up the streets, and may use them as access to this illegal quarry for years," Mrs. Ruth Bowers of 122 Myrtle Avenue complained.

San Rafael police told the miffed residents that they were blocking a public street with the saw-horse barricade they placed today. The officers removed the barricade until the problem could be settled by "due process of law."

City planning commissioners will hear the arguments against the Merz Brothers use permit at a public hearing Jan. 23.

CRASH WIPES OUT KIN OF MARINITE

The father, brother, two sisters and two nephews of a Mill Valley man were killed, along with the driver of the station wagon in which they were riding, in a crash at Groom, Tex., Saturday.

The crash snuffed out the life of Alvin Thomas Bell, 47; his son Jack M. Bell, 19; his daughters, Mrs. Bobbie Gill, 25, and Judy Bell, 11, and Mrs. Gill's two children, Vim, 9, and Tommie, 3, and of driver Clayton Aldrage, 20.

The Bells and Gills were the father, brother, sisters and nephews of James Bell, construction worker of 206 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley. He and his wife left for Texas immediately after being notified of the accident.

Alvin and Jack Bell had been working in California and went recently to Missouri for the Christmas holidays. They were en route back to California with Judy, Mrs. Gill and the latter's two sons in a station wagon driven by Aldrage, who resided in Kennett, Mo.

At Groom, Tex., Richard D. Campbell, 36, had parked a truck at the roadside with warning lights flashing while he went into a cafe for a cup of coffee.

The station wagon plowed head-on into the truck. Texas Highway Patrolman Jack Morton said the only possible explanation was that Aldrage had fallen asleep at the wheel.

Marinwood Wants Advice On Fire Chief

The Marinwood Assn. board of directors yesterday recommended that no action be taken on Marinwood Fire Chief Donald G. Ray until outside, expert advice is obtained.

Ray, under fire since last year by the Marinwood Fire Commission, was given a "quit or be fired" ultimatum last week. He is charged with laxity in operating the 20-man volunteer fire department.

PETITION REPORTED

It was reported that a petition giving Ray a vote of confidence was signed by a substantial majority of the volunteers, although no official number of signatures could be obtained. Among those signing the petition was Howard Council, volunteer fireman and president of the Marinwood Community Services District board.

Boyd F. Wells, president of the Marinwood Assn., said his group yesterday heard testimony both for and against the fire chief. Stating the case of the fire commission was commissioner Robert Morris. Chief Ray presented his own case.

MEETING SET

A unanimously approved resolution urged the community services district board not to take action at its meeting scheduled Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Mary E. Silveira School.

The resolution "strongly urged the community services district board to withhold any decision regarding Chief Ray's dismissal since this is a matter of sufficient gravity to warrant emlpoyment of outside, professional, disinterested, technically-qualified counsel to evaluate the charges," said Webb.

OTHER SUPPORT

Support for Ray also came last week from the Marinwood Citizens Committee. According to J. W. Walsh Jr., public relations consultant for the group, it considers Ray a "capable, competent and industrious public servant."

The citizens committee will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Walsh's home at 221 Emerystone Terrace. At that time, Walsh said, an official position on Ray would be taken.

Postal Hike Approval Is Forecast

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Speaker John McCormack predicted today that the House will approve next week a postal rate increase calling for a five-cent stamp on first class letters and an eight-cent stamp for air mail.

McCormack also said that the House democratic leadership would support the administration stand on the issue. Thus, the battle will provide the first test of the effectiveness of the new leadership team, McCormack, democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma, and party whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana.

The speaker scheduled for floor action a bill that would raise an additional 550 million dollars in postal revenue, largely through a one-cent increase in first class and air mail rates. Administration forces will try on the floor to raise the bill's total to 621 million dollars.

2 AMERICAN STUDENTS FREED BY COMMUNISTS

BERLIN (AP) — Two American students, jailed for trying to smuggle a girl out of East Berlin, were released by the Communists today.

The students, Victor Searles Pankey and Gilbert Page Ferrey, both 20 and both from Tustin, Calif., were sentenced to two years imprisonment by an East Berlin court last Sept. 26.

Pankey's father, Edgar Pankey, and Ferrey's mother, Mary Ferrey, both went across to East Berlin today.

When they returned through the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint they were accompanied by the two students. Reporters at the checkpoint saw the two young men.

$10,000 WORTH

Did Jewelry Go To The Laundry?

Mrs. Shirley Dettner of Sausalito is afraid she sent $10,000 worth of jewels to the laundry.

Police Chief Howard Goerndt said today Mrs. Dettner, wife of Arthur Dettner Jr., owner of a San Francisco printing firm, reported yesterday the jewelry had vanished from her home.

But, said Chief Goerndt, it may have been sent to the laundry rather than stolen.

The jewels, he explained, were kept in a jewelry box under the mattress. Mrs. Dettner thought she might have got them tangled in the sheets.

Missing, according to Mrs. Dettner, were a blue saphire ring flanked with diamonds, a pear-shaped diamond pendant, a diamond bracelet with seven stones in a Tiffany setting, a pin studded with 256 yellow diamonds, and a diamond ring.

So far the laundry (Goerndt wouldn't say which one) had not located any sparklers among the sheets nor in the laundry tubs, the chief said.

Dutch Sink Indonesia Torpedo Boat

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, (AP) — An Indonesian torpedo boat was sunk Monday by Dutch patrol ships inside West New Guinea's territorial waters on the south coast, the navy said today.

At least three Indonesian motor torpedo boats were intercepted and a second may have been sunk, the navy said. The other intruder fled.

The Dutch news agency quoted the navy commander in Hollandia as saying it was thought the Indonesian warcraft might have been the vanguard for an invasion. A Dutch defense ministry spokesman at the Hague refused to comment when asked whether the clash meant an actual state of war between The Netherlands and Indonesia.

Indonesia had threatened to seize West New Guinea by force if necessary and Dutch officials at Biak report small bands of Indonesians have begun infiltration but are being rounded up. They said some have been killed in clashes with Dutch patrols.

The navy spokesman said the Indonesian torpedo boats were intercepted near Etna Bay.

Christopher Tosses Hat Into Race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor Christopher today announced he is a candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket.

The announcement made his candidacy official but was no surprise.

Christopher emphasized his "genuine dedication to the free enterprise economic system" and blasted the present lieutenant governor, Democrat Glenn M. Anderson, as a "do-nothing nonentity in state government."

"This man, a political accident in the 1958 elections, is an embarrassment to his own political party, the leaders of which tolerate him publicly only to present a 'happy family' face to the electorate," the mayor said.

Christopher made his announcement at a news conference at which he was questioned closely about his feelings in the Nixon-Knight contest for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

"I have said before and I say again I presently will vote for Mr. Nixon, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon," the mayor said.

Referring to former Republican Gov. Goodwin Knight's recent illness, Christopher said that "I feel that Mr. Knight's position is such that he will find it difficult to win the nomination."

Services Held For Actor Kovacs

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A simple Presbyterian funeral service was conducted today for comedian Ernie Kovacs, with the elite of Hollywood on hand.

Kovacs, 42, was killed Saturday in an auto accident. He had said he wanted quiet rites with no eulogy and fanfare, and that is what he got at the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian Church.

Red In State Assembly, Says Former FBI Agent

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A former undercover agent for the FBI told an Assembly committee today he believes a member of the state Assembly also was a member of the Communist party.

"It is my opinion that Communists hold public office, and I think it can be proven," said Karl Prussion, of Los Altos, the witness.

Milton Marks, San Francisco Republican, chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Constitutional Amendments, told Pression it was his duty to make this information available.

Pression declined, adding, however, that the information was available in public documents.

He said he could not be specific "because of complexities of the law."

The committee is conducting a hearing on a constitutional amendment proposal by Louis Francis, San Mateo Republican, which would specifically deny public employment or tax exemptions to a member of the Communist Party.

The state's present law denies such privileges to anyone who advocates violent overthrow of the government. Francis says that by specifically naming the Communist Party it would be easier to prosecute violators.

Prussion said that his information is contained in testimony developed by hearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Corte Madera Petitions In

Petitions calling for a swimming pool in the Corte Madera town park, with more than 1,000 signatures, were turned over to the Corte Madera town clerk today.

The petition, pushed by the Corte Madera park and recreation commission, calls for a $165,000 bond issue to finance the swimming pool. There were 1,002 signatures, more than double the necessary amount.

Town Clerk Naydeen Penny has until Jan. 26 to certify the signatures. The petitions will probably be presented to the town council at its Feb. 5 meeting.

The town council has agreed to put the bond proposal on the April 10 municipal election ballot.

Former Marin Deputy In Poor Condition

James Baird Jr., former Marin County deputy sheriff, was reported in poor condition today in a Cleveland, Ohio, hospital, suffering from a gunshot wound Cleveland police said was self-inflicted.

Baird reportedly shot himself when police closed in on him after he bungled a bank holdup in Cleveland Friday.

FOR MILL VALLEY

Small Craft Harbor Loan Approved

The California Small Craft Harbors Commission gave final approval today to a $300,000 loan for a small craft harbor in Mill Valley.

Loan agreements were signed following approval at a meeting of the commission in San Leandro. City Councilman George D. Monardo, City Manager A. E. Almcrants and City Engineer Stanley M. Bala represented Mill Valley at the meeting.

The loan agreement clears the way for Mill Valley to go ahead with development of the harbor on the north end of Richardson Bay between Enchanted Knolls and Sycamore Avenue.

The Mill Valley project will depend on widening of the Saucelito Channel to Richardson Bay, proposed by the county as another $300,000 project. Sufficient assurances of channel widening were presented to the state board today for the Mill Valley loan to be granted final approval.

Wider Split Is Reported Between Russ, Red China

LONDON (UPI) — The ideological tug-of-war between Moscow and Peiping has reached a new climax, marking a deeper-than-ever rifts in the international communist movement, diplomatic sources said today.

Two major developments during the weekend spelled out a significant heightening of the struggle between the two communist giants, the sources said:

A Moscow-controlled ideological publication with a Communist world circulation — "Problems of peace and socialism" — branded Communist Albania and its friends "enemies of the Communist movement."

Communist China openly sided with Albania and publicly backed Enver Hoxha, the Albanian party chief who has become Moscow's "public enemy No. 1." Peiping also gave economic assistance to help make up for the loss of Russian aid.

Hospital Building Bids To Be Opened

Bids on temporary strengthening of two county hospital buildings in Lucas Valley are scheduled to be opened before the Marin County Board of Supervisors at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Body Recovered Under Gate Span

A body believed to be that of Harold S. Hartley, 50, of San Jose, was found floating under the Golden Gate Bridge today by Coast Guard searchers.

It was believed that he was the 217th person to perish in leaping from the bridge.

An old sedan registered to Hartley was found this morning in the northbound bridge lanes about halfway across. Its lights were on. A pair of spectacles was found on the seat but there was no note.

Weatherman Says Freezing Temperatures In Store Again

It was a chilly morning in Marin today, and more freezing temperatures are expected tomorrow.

Some cloudiness tomorrow is predicted by the Weather Bureau. Rain is likely in a day or so, the bureau said, and temperatures should rise by the end of the week.

Ice formed on roadside pools in North Marin and the San Geronimo Valley as the temperature fell to 23 early today at the county firehouse in Woodacre and to 26 at the Novato main firehouse.

It was also below freezing at 31 in San Anselmo and 30 in the Chevy Chase district of Larkspur. San Rafael City Hall recorded a low of 34, with minimum temperatures at other points including 33 in Terra Linda, 32 in Fairfax, Mill Valley and Belvedere.

The icy weather won't do any serious damage to crops and gardens, according to Richard Straw, county agricultural commissioner.

"It may harm young grass that sprouted in pasture lands during our stretch of warm weather," Straw said, "but the grass will come up again. Fruit trees won't be hurt. In fact, the cold weather benefits them in their dormant period.

"What we really have to worry about," Straw adds, "is lack of rain. This is our fourth year of drought, and we may face a drastic situation soon."

U.S. Ready To Sign Common Mart Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States and the European Common Market Nations will sign a sweeping tariff-cutting agreement on many industrial products tomorrow afternoon, sources close to the Common Market reported today.

The agreement will be signed by Howard Peterson, special adviser to President John F. Kennedy, and Jean Ray, member of the European Economic Community (EEC) commission in charge of foreign relations.

"Everything seems to be going all right," the sources said.

"Meetings of experts are taking place today to examine the last problems still pending. These meetings will continue tomorrow morning if need be."

The sources indicated that the French representatives had expressed some reservations about tariff cuts on imports of some American chemicals, but that it was hoped these objections could be met to the satisfaction of the French government.

The pact, it was understood, involves up to 20 per cent reductions on hundreds of tariffs — more by the six-nation market than by the United States.

It also was reported that an arrangement had been made for protecting U. S. farm products in trade with the market.

The agriculture problem had been the main obstacle in the 15 months of negotiations. That apparently was cleared yesterday when the Common Market hammered together a joint agriculture program.

When the deal goes through — and informants indicated it may be near the signing stage — the U. S. tariff reductions would be made under the authority already held by the president.

Such authority was granted by the 1958 enabling act of the reciprocal trade program. This is the program Kennedy wants greatly expanded to give him a freer hand in negotiating massive tariff reductions with the Common Market.

State Department officials said that one result of the agreement would be that the Common Market would lower its tariffs 20 per cent.

U. S. reductions—limited by the trade act — would be up to 20 per cent.

The agreement was worked out in Brussels with special presidential adviser Howard Peterson representing the United States in final talks with officials of the Common Market—which is made up of West Germany, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Space Balloon Fails, Bursts Over Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A huge space balloon broke apart hundreds of miles above the Atlantic today as it was inflating to the size of a 13-story building.

The breakup of the big balloon — dubbed "Big Shot" — showered several pieces of aluminum coated plastic into the ocean about 600 miles southeast of the Cape. The pieces, illuminated brilliantly by the rays of the rising sun, provided a spectacular show for observers.

The 500-pound bundle of plastic sheeting was folded neatly in a canister in the nose of a Thor rocket which blasted off at 6:06 a.m. in an experiment aimed at testing techniques for launching an advanced Echo communications Satellite.

A few minutes after the launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that the balloon had separated from the Thor and had started to inflate. But a short while later the space agency said that the balloon had split.

The reason for the failure was not immediately known. Technicians planned to study television film relayed from a camera in the Thor booster. The film recorded the 25-minute flight.

An attempt also was under way to recover a 16-mm movie camera which ejected from the Thor and parachuted into the sea.

'Dangerous Drug' Suspect Is Arrested

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sacramento police have arrested a man they claim illegally sold 20 to 30 thousand dangerous drug pills during the past year in northern California.

Police said Filbert Martinez, 34, of 4910 8th Avenue was "one of the largest illegal suppliers of dangerous drugs in northern California."

Martinez admitted selling the pills, mostly amphetamines and barbituates, to individuals and to people who resold them.

Police found more than 50,000 pills in his home and in a variety store he runs. Martinez said he found them in the basement of a closed-out drug store.

Martinez was booked on misdemeanor charges, and released on bail.

Police also arrested Fred Makiney on charges of possession and sale of dangerous drugs. Martinez reportedly sold pills to Makiney.

State law requires that dangerous drugs be dispensed only on the advice of a doctor.

Gizenga Gives In, Gets Censured

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The Congo Parliament by an overwhelming majority censured Antoine Gizenga today for his difiance of the central Congo government. The pro-Communist deputy premier was a virtual prisoner of U. N. and Congolese forces encircling his residence in Stanleyville.

The government announced Gizenga had agreed to end his self-imposed exile and return to Leopoldville by this Saturday after his personal bodyguard surrendered yesterday to Congolese troops. His capitulation came too late to avert the parliamentary wrath.

After a brief but angry debate, the vote in the chamber of Deputies was 67 for the censure motion, a single vote against it, and one abstention.

The parliamentary action left the way open for Premier Cyrille Adoula to oust Gizenga from the deputy premiership he accepted last August but never actually filled.

One deputy said Gizenga's gendarmes who battled Congolese troops in Stanleyville over the weekend were in every way comparable to the foreign mercenaries fighting for President Moise Tshombe in Katanga Province.

Nearly 300 of Gizenga's gendarmes — his military army in Stanleyville — have been disarmed and taken prisoner by central government troops a U. N. spokesman said.

'A Shark Will Get Me,' And A 14-Footer Did

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A brawny, six-foot skindiver told his wife, "I probably won't be back. I figure a shark will get me."

Floyd Pair Jr., 29, a Sacramento milkman, said it as a joke but he almost fortold his fate. Only the ending turned out differently.

Here's what happened yesterday:

Pair came to San Francisco for a day's skindiving near the Farrallon Islands 25 miles west of the Golden Gate. He was one of a party of 100 Sacramento area divers who had chartered four boats for the purpose.

At about 11 a.m. Pair went over the side of the boat, New Merrimac, a black skin suit taut against his body, oxygen tanks on his back, face mask in place, spear gun in his hand.

"I went down to about 40 feet," Pair recounted. "I chased a fish, lost him, decided to surface. "Then it hit me, just as I surfaced. At first I thought it was a seal. But a seal doesn't have a mouth that big. It was brown, and every inch of 14 feet long. It hit me from the right side and started shaking me like a dog plays with a bone.

"I saw that it was a shark. I remember thinking first that it didn't hurt. Then I half remembered something I had read by a German deep sea expert, Hans Hass.

"Hass said to make a lot of noise and hit an attacking shark in the face.

"I spit out my breathing mouthpiece, began yelling, 'Shark! Shark!' at the same time I began jabbing at the shark's snout with my spear. He let loose of me and took off."

Two other divers helped Pair back to the New Merrimac. In minutes the water was cleared of other divers. A helicopter was called and took Pair to San Francisco's Franklin Hospital.

"On the boat they wanted to cut off my suit and look at the wounds," Pair said. "But I felt I needed that tight suit to keep whatever blood I still had in me."

Doctors described Pair's wounds as serious but not crippling. He suffered gaping leg wounds and a deep cut into a buttock.

A doctor said Pair's femoral artery just missed being severed. "If that had gone, he'd have gone too."

Cash, Checks Stolen From Equipment Firm

William Marcel Davis, owner of Davis Equipment Co. at 424 Irwin Street, told San Rafael police yesterday that, some time Saturday night, his firm was entered and $285 in cash and checks taken from a hiding place.

More than 70 per cent of the energy consumed in the United States comes from oil and gas.

U.S., Portugal Strain Held Due In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Renewed U.N. debate on Angola today puts a new strain on ties between the United States and its Atlantic ally Portugal.

The debate was the first major business as the General Assembly resumes its 16th annual session after a Christmas recess.

Asian and European diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them it hoped the 104-nation assembly would adopt a moderate, meaningful resolution that would push the Portuguese toward self-determination for Angola.

But Portugal contended that the assembly had no right to even discuss its big West African territory. It maintained that all Portuguese overseas territories are provinces, not colonies, and their control is a domestic matter outside the assembly's jurisdiction.

There was speculation that the Portuguese delegation would boycott the Angola debate as it did on a similar occasion last April. Sources in Lisbon have predicted that Portugal would quit the United Nations if the assembly censured rule over Angola.

Scores Die As Algeria Extremists Let Blood

ALGIERS (UPI) — A weekend of terror attacks by rival Moslem nationalists and European settle extremists left scores dead and wounded across Algeria today.

Police figures showed that 31 persons were killed and 76 wounded yesterday alone, bringing the total number of casualties since New Year's Day to 236 dead and 288 wounded.

The bloodshed is the result of a vicious attacks and counter attacks on each other by Moslem rebels and the settlers' Secret Army Organization.

The battling has become so open that the Archbishop Leone Etienne Duval, went on television yesterday to appeal for special prayers for peace.

Shortly afterward a group of Moslem gunmen in a car sprayed the passing automobile of a European family with machinegun fire, killing the father and two children and seriously injuring the wife and another child.

In predominantly European Oran, Algeria's second-largest city, police went out in force yesterday to break up roving packs of youths hunting down Moslems.

In two Algiers suburbs, hundreds of Moslems staged noisy demonstrations last night until a strong turnout of riot police dispersed them.

Two other divers helped Pair back to the New Merrimac. In minutes the water was cleared of other divers. A helicopter was called and took Pair to San Francisco's Franklin Hospital.

"On the boat they wanted to cut off my suit and look at the wounds," Pair said. "But I felt I needed that tight suit to keep whatever blood I still had in me."

Doctors described Pair's wounds as serious but not crippling. He suffered gaping leg wounds and a deep cut into a buttock.

A doctor said Pair's femoral artery just missed being severed. "If that had gone, he'd have gone too."

Cash, Checks Stolen From Equipment Firm

William Marcel Davis, owner of Davis Equipment Co. at 424 Irwin Street, told San Rafael police yesterday that, some time Saturday night, his firm was entered and $285 in cash and checks taken from a hiding place.

Davis, who lives at 2 Crown Point, said the money was in a small cardboard box kept on a shelf in the small parts room.

U.S., Portugal Strain Held Due In U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Renewed U.N. debate on Angola today puts a new strain on ties between the United States and its Atlantic ally Portugal.

The debate was the first major business as the General Assembly resumes its 16th annual session after a Christmas recess.

Asian and European diplomats said U.S. delegates had told them it hoped the 104-nation assembly would adopt a moderate, meaningful resolution that would push the Portuguese toward self-determination for Angola.

But Portugal contended that the assembly had no right to even discuss its big West African territory. It maintained that all Portuguese overseas territories are provinces, not colonies, and their control is a domestic matter outside the assembly's jurisdiction.

There was speculation that the Portuguese delegation would boycott the Angola debate as it did on a similar occasion last April. Sources in Lisbon have predicted that Portugal would quit the United Nations if the assembly censured rule over Angola.

Scores Die As Algeria Extremists Let Blood

ALGIERS (UPI) — A weekend of terror attacks by rival Moslem nationalists and European settle extremists left scores dead and wounded across Algeria today.

Police figures showed that 31 persons were killed and 76 wounded yesterday alone, bringing the total number of casualties since New Year's Day to 236 dead and 288 wounded.

The bloodshed is the result of a vicious attacks and counter attacks on each other by Moslem rebels and the settlers' Secret Army Organization.

The battling has become so open that the Archbishop Leone Etienne Duval, went on television yesterday to appeal for special prayers for peace.

Shortly afterward a group of Moslem gunmen in a car sprayed the passing automobile of a European family with machinegun fire, killing the father and two children and seriously injuring the wife and another child.

In predominantly European Oran, Algeria's second-largest city, police went out in force yesterday to break up roving packs of youths hunting down Moslems.

In two Algiers suburbs, hundreds of Moslems staged noisy demonstrations last night until a strong turnout of riot police dispersed them.

GOOD MUSIC

Baker Concert Very Capable

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Every concert presented under direction of Winifred Baker adds to the evidence that in her Marin has another music director of great capability, good taste and charm, and Saturday night's winter concert of her chorale and boys' chorus was no exception.

That the audience, which nearly filled Angelo Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael, was aware of this could be judged from many comments heard.

In the major work of the evening, Britten's "Saint Nicolas," the chorale of some 68 voices revealed admirable tone, resonance and sensitive response to direction in changes of volume, pace and rhythm. Perfect clarity of diction is an acid test for the best of choruses and a choice between it and beautiful tone must sometimes be made. It was not surprising that the text could not always be understood.

Oddly enough, in the sections sung by the 34-voice boys' choir the reverse was true for every word could be heard, probably thanks to expert training as well as the simpler character of the material.

Though the voice of the tiny Steven Janas as the boy Nicolas was perhaps a little young for the part, he had "the pickled boys"—Ron Brannigan, Steve McConnell and Tom Shock—made one of the high points of the evening for the audience.

The role of the adult Saint Nicolas was ably sung by tenor Theophilus Stephanou, but his tonal quality has too much vibrato for our taste.

Organist Wilbur Russell and pianist Margery Bagshaw handled the accompaniment with success and showed high quality of performance in the opening choral Fantasia in C Minor for piano, orchestra and chorus based by Beethoven on the theme of his song, "Gegenliebe." The duo piano passages, particularly the pianissimo ones, with the organ replacing the orchestra were another high point of the concert.

Good soloists were sopranos Carroll Solo and Karen Koeble, contralto Ruth O'Connor, tenors John Gibb and O. J. Di Muro and baritone Cary Barford.

Two songs with music composed by Marin's young Suzanne Oberholtzer were sung by a part of the boys' chorus. They were piquant enough to make us look forward with pleasure to hearing more ambitious works by this attractive member of the chorale.

SAN RAFAEL COUNCIL

Building Inspector Aide May Be Hired

Hiring Roderic D. Rothgeb as assistant building inspector at $520 a month will be considered at the meeting of the San Rafael City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council also will take up hiring Lester Mattos as a maintenance man. Both hirings would be effective tomorrow.

Nearly a score of other items are on the agenda.

One of the first matters will be a public hearing on adoption of the 1961 edition of the building code followed by consideration of lease proposals for a parcel of land which the San Rafael Yacht Club wishes to obtain.

The council also will consider an agreement to extend a sanitary sewer on Coleman Drive as requested by R. E. Nolan and Son. Final adoption of a charter ordinance rezoning Terra Linda Meadows also will be taken up.

A resolution is expected setting a hearing on the Enemark Annexation. Also to be considered will be disposition of the remaining lands owned by the city at Fourth and Union Streets.

Painting Equipment Is Taken From Shack

Painting equipment valued at $200 was taken from the paint shack at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club, Ralph E. Warner reported to San Rafael police Friday.

Wagner, foreman painter for Golden Gate Dry Wall, who lives in Novato, said someone removed the padlock to the shack, entered and stole 25 gallons of paint, 64 new paint brushes and three new drop cloths. Equipment was taken between Wednesday and Friday, Wagner said.

Band Music At College Proved To Be Treat

By ABE MILLSTEIN

Friends and families were treated to an evening of band music by the College of Marin Community Band Saturday evening in Olney Hall. The many children seen in the audience gave evidence of the large number of performing parents among band personnel.

The mixed audience found selections to their enjoyment in a balanced program of familiar marches, Vaughan Williams' "Folk Song Suite," excerpts from a "Suite of Old American Dances" by Robert Russell Bennett, a "Beguine for Band" by Dale W. Eymann, and two baroque selections, a Bach sarabrande and an aria and fugue by Handel.

The band performed best those selections which were originally conceived and arranged for band, particularly contemporary Californian Frank Erickson's "Intrada" and the marches, J. J. Richards' "Emblem of Unity" and E. E. Bagley's "National Emblem," which appropriately opened and closed the program.

John H. Myers, conductor, handled this recently reorganized group with artistic restraint while controlling the expressive dynamics in keeping with the musical essence of each composition.

A favorite with the audience, other that the marches, was the English "Folk Song Suite."

The college-community band, which appears to be well on its way to becoming an important addition to Marin's cultural spirit, provides an outlet for talented students and adults who may have neglected musical skills developed in younger years.

Myers welcomes interested adult performers at the Tuesday evening rehearsals.

Oh, yes, Marin needs a concert hall.

'Harvest Of Shame' Film To Be Shown

"Harvest of Shame," the film produced by Edward R. Murrow depicting living and working conditions of some migrant farm workers in the United States, will be shown at a meeting of the Downtown Mill Valley Democratic Club at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the Mill Valley Golf Club.

Thomas N. Saunders of Berkeley, former state director of industrial safety, and Donald Glover of San Francisco, assistant state labor commissioner, will discuss present conditions among California migrant farm workers.

Before the film is shown and discussed club members will approve by-laws, elect officers and choose delegates for the California Democratic Council convention in Fresno, said Haddon W. Ruth, spokesman.

The club also will name delegates for the local Seventh Assembly District endorsing convention set for Feb. 17 in Petaluma.

OBTUARIES

Funeral Rites Scheduled For Samuel R. Neider, 61

Funeral services for Samuel R. Neider, holder of extensive Marin County properties in the Strawberry area, were scheduled in Oakland this afternoon.

Neider died of a heart ailment in his San Francisco apartment Thursday. He was 61.

Sole remaining known relative is a nephew, Arthur Neider of Oakland.

Although Neider had frequently spoken of making a will, there was no general knowledge thta he had ever acted, and no will was found immediately.

This created doubt as to the immediate future of several Marin developments. Neider had operated from his apartment, which contained two office rooms almost filled with documents which will be checked over.

Though his name frequently appeared in proceedings before both the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the county planning commission, Neider never appeared personally, preferring to be represented by attorney Bryan McCarthy.

He made frequent long telephone calls to handle his business affairs and liked to operate at long range.

Neider's Marin County holdings included:

1. A strip near the Alto interchange along Highway 101, where construction of a shopping center is under way.

2. A Harbor Cove tract up to the ridge behind this, zoned for apartment development some months ago. Details on Neider construction of a road to Golden Gate Theological Seminary were just made.

3. Harbor Point, 48 lots on the east side of the Strawberry Peninsula as well as a Harbor Point Beach Club now about one-third completed, with tennis courts and a large swimming pool.

4. Harbor Island off Harbor Point, now linked to Strawberry by a fill creating a causeway. The island has 100 home sites of lagoon type.

5. Land near the east side of the end of the peninsula where Lloyd Flood and Ralph T. Walters have an option to construct a 20 million dollar "luxury tower apartment" development. (The Strawberry Property Owners Assn. has been in court against the county protesting the supervisors' rezoning for this purpose.)

What effect Neider's death might have on any or all of these projects could not be evaluated today.

Other Neider holdings include considerable land in Oakland, including a downtown area valued at around three-quarters of a million dollars, a "travel lodge," and a half-interest in the Oakland Hofbrau restaurant as well as full proprietorship of a San Francisco Hofbrau.

Born in Illinois, Neider moved to the Bay Area in 1924. His late mother lived in Oakland and much of his earlier interest centered in that area.

He was president of Marin Lands Co., Inc., and of the Merritt Land Co. in Oakland. At one time he owned various restaurants and was a partner in the now defunct Sally Rand Club in El Cerrito which was operated by the fan and bubble dancer.

T. L. SMITH

Funeral services were held in San Francisco today for Talmadge Lee Smith, 35, of San Rafael, a garage manager, who died of a heart attack on Jan. 8 in San Francisco.

The San Francisco Coroner said Talmadge had gone to a massage parlor at 385 Hayes Street on the evening of Jan. 8 for regular treatments he had been receiving. He suddenly collapsed on the massage table and died of a heart attack, the coroner reported.

Mrs. Catherine Willis, who operates the establishment had indicated that Smith's wife had been notified, and so the coroner did not call Smith's home at 100 Bayo Vista, San Rafael.

It was only after Mrs. Joan Smith called San Rafael police on Thursday to report her husband missing that she learned of the fatal heart attack.

Smith, who worked as manager at Stevenson's Garage in San Francisco, leaves his wife and two children, Gail and Linda. He was the son of Mrs. Cora Smith of Colma, brother of Mrs. Mary Edwards of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Lorena Williams of Colma, and Pershing and Doyle Smith of San Francisco.

Entombment was at Cypress Lawn Memorial Park in Colma.

LOUIS COLTON

Funeral services for Louis A. Colton, founder and president of the Colton Paper Co. of San Francisco, were held today in San Francisco, under auspices of Fidelity Lodge 120, Ancient Order of Free and Accepted Masons.

Colton, 85, died Friday at his San Francisco home after a brief illness.

He was the father of Edgar Colton of 27 Woodside Drive, San Anselmo.

A native of San Francisco, Colton lived 3211 Baker Street. He spent each summer at the home of his son in San Anselmo. He had been associated with the paper industry for 65 years, serving as a vice president of the Zellerbach Paper Co. of San Francisco before founding his own company in 1946.

He is survived by his wife, Edna; three sons, Edgar Colton and Joseph and Arthur Colton of San Francisco; one daughter, Mrs. Marian Levy of San Francisco; one brother, Milton Colton of San Francisco; and seven grandchildren.

FRITZ BYSTROM

Funeral services for Fritz Gustav A. Bystrom, retired Mill Valley carpenter, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Russ[illegible]nd Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

[illegible]rom, 74, died Saturday at his home after a heart attack. Bystrom was in the back yard of his residence at 43 Lomita Drive when he collapsed at 3 p.m. Firemen from the Alto Fire Department failed to revive him and he was pronounced dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital. Key To Good Health—Your Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Do you envy the relative or friend who has the ability to throw off the effects of flu or other ailments almost before you can say "aspirin"? How does he beat those viruses?

"It's his resistance," someone may say.

Resistance to disease is not the mystery many of us think it is. It can be explained as a condition that runs hand in hand with good health. And good health is the reward of those people who help nature take care of their physical welfare. The ingredients of good health include exercise, pure food and drink, cleanliness, sufficient rest, disciplined thinking, and, above all, a body that functions at high efficiency in all its systems.

The key system of the body is the nervous system which supplies the "living power" to every part and organ. And when the free flow of nerve energy is disrupted, body resistance diminishes and invasive disease agents, such as viruses, gain a foothold in the affected area.

The nervous system can be disrupted by the accidental misalignment of spinal bones or vertebrae which form a protective canal for vital nerve trunks descending from the brain. These spinal misalignments will compress, pinch or stretch the nerves, thus hindering the flow of impulses to one or more distant organs of the body. This lack of nerve supply sets up a fertile field for disease.

Chiropractors are specialists in removing nerve interference painlessly and efficiently by means of spinal adjustments and by hand alone. One or several adjustments may restore the nervous system to top capacity, and with nature's help drive out the disease agents. An efficient nervous system, kept in good repair, is the best weapon in the war against disease. It means resistance . . . which, after all, is just plain good health.

Funeral Rites Scheduled For Samuel R. Neider, 61

Funeral services for Samuel R. Neider, holder of extensive Marin County properties in the Strawberry area, were scheduled in Oakland this afternoon.

Neider died of a heart ailment in his San Francisco apartment Thursday. He was 61.

Sole remaining known relative is a nephew, Arthur Neider of Oakland.

Although Neider had frequently spoken of making a will, there was no general knowledge thta he had ever acted, and no will was found immediately.

This created doubt as to the immediate future of several Marin developments. Neider had operated from his apartment, which contained two office rooms almost filled with documents which will be checked over.

Though his name frequently appeared in proceedings before both the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the county planning commission, Neider never appeared personally, preferring to be represented by attorney Bryan McCarthy.

He made frequent long telephone calls to handle his business affairs and liked to operate at long range.

Neider's Marin County holdings included:

1. A strip near the Alto interchange along Highway 101, where construction of a shopping center is under way.

2. A Harbor Cove tract up to the ridge behind this, zoned for apartment development some months ago. Details on Neider construction of a road to Golden Gate Theological Seminary were just made.

3. Harbor Point, 48 lots on the east side of the Strawberry Peninsula as well as a Harbor Point Beach Club now about one-third completed, with tennis courts and a large swimming pool.

4. Harbor Island off Harbor Point, now linked to Strawberry by a fill creating a causeway. The island has 100 home sites of lagoon type.

5. Land near the east side of the end of the peninsula where Lloyd Flood and Ralph T. Walters have an option to construct a 20 million dollar "luxury tower apartment" development. (The Strawberry Property Owners Assn. has been in court against the county protesting the supervisors' rezoning for this purpose.)

What effect Neider's death might have on any or all of these projects could not be evaluated today.

Other Neider holdings include considerable land in Oakland, including a downtown area valued at around three-quarters of a million dollars, a "travel lodge," and a half-interest in the Oakland Hofbrau restaurant as well as full proprietorship of a San Francisco Hofbrau.

Born in Illinois, Neider moved to the Bay Area in 1924. His late mother lived in Oakland and much of his earlier interest centered in that area.

He was president of Marin Lands Co., Inc., and of the Merritt Land Co. in Oakland. At one time he owned various restaurants and was a partner in the now defunct Sally Rand Club in El Cerrito which was operated by the fan and bubble dancer.

Key To Good Health—Your Nervous System

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

Do you envy the relative or friend who has the ability to throw off the effects of flu or other ailments almost before you can say "aspirin"? How does he beat those viruses?

"It's his resistance," someone may say.

Resistance to disease is not the mystery many of us think it is. It can be explained as a condition that runs hand in hand with good health. And good health is the reward of those people who help nature take care of their physical welfare. The ingredients of good health include exercise, pure food and drink, cleanliness, sufficient rest, disciplined thinking, and, above all, a body that functions at high efficiency in all its systems.

The key system of the body is the nervous system which supplies the "living power" to every part and organ. And when the free flow of nerve energy is disrupted, body resistance diminishes and invasive disease agents, such as viruses, gain a foothold in the affected area.

The nervous system can be disrupted by the accidental misalignment of spinal bones or vertebrae which form a protective canal for vital nerve trunks descending from the brain. These spinal misalignments will compress, pinch or stretch the nerves, thus hindering the flow of impulses to one or more distant organs of the body. This lack of nerve supply sets up a fertile field for disease.

Chiropractors are specialists in removing nerve interference painlessly and efficiently by means of spinal adjustments and by hand alone. One or several adjustments may restore the nervous system to top capacity, and with nature's help drive out the disease agents. An efficient nervous system, kept in good repair, is the best weapon in the war against disease. It means resistance . . . which, after all, is just plain good health.

DESERT ATTRACTION—An explorer dips his hand into a pool of clear water and he and a photographer-companion investigate a newly discovered cavern filled with multi-colored stalactites and stalagmites near Las Vegas, Nev. (AP Wirephoto)

Beautiful Cave Found In Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Last month workmen bulldozing a road to a new picnic grounds in the Toiyabe Forest uncovered a slit in a hillside.

A couple of adventuresome souls wormed and stumbled inside, and down a narrow passage about two blocks long, pointing toward the heart of the snow-covered Mount Charleston range.

Their flashing flashlights disclosed a room the size of a high school gymnasium, glistening eerily yet beautifully with multi-colored rock formations created by dripping lime water.

Result: the cavern in the mountain 45 miles northwest of this desert resort may some day become a tourist attraction.

Those who have seen it liken it to the famed caves in Carlsbad, N.M., and Luray, Va.

There are stalactites as thin as spaghetti and five feet long, others that look like elephant ears with dainty patterns running through them.

From the floor rise stalagmites that look and feel like wax candles. The colors are white, orange and brown.

"It made me feel kind of silly," said Wayne Kinnie of the Las Vegas Review-Journal the first man to bring out pictures. "And then I started feeling like Christopher Columbus."

Kinnie and his companion Orvy Clark, former commander of the county sheriff's jeep posse, reported there appeared to be passages leading off the big room.

U.S. forestry officials are not quite sure what to do about their new responsibility.

"We're trying to arrange to get a couple of Speleogists (cave scientists) to explore the area further," said Ivan Sack in Reno.

Others in this tourist-conscious area want to learn how to get visitors into the cavern other than by rope ladder.

Two Strike Woman's Car, Both Are Cited

Two men were cited by San Rafael police Saturday after their cars hit the auto of a San Anselmo woman at Fourth and D Streets.

Woodrow W. Fitzsimmons, 18, of 21 Rowland Court, San Rafael, was cited for speeding.

The only party injured, he was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for cuts on his left foot and thigh.

Cited for hit-run and driving without due caution was William Patrick Maloney, 20, of 184 Oak Manor Drive, Fairfax.

Police said that at 9:52 p.m. a car driven by Mrs. Elsie Mae Grupe, 54, of 91 Oak Knoll, San Anselmo, was struck by Fitzsimmons' auto and then, shortly afterward, by Maloney's car.

She reported to police she was northward bound on D Street, stopped for the stop sign and then proceeded to cross Fourth.

Fitzsimmons, westbound on Fourth, told police Maloney started following him too closely so he speeded up. Maloney did likewise, Fitzsimmons said. Fitzsimmons braked and swerved to the right to try to avoid the collision.

Officers said Maloney left the scene of the accident but was arrested four hours later by Officer David Stogner while driving at Third Street and Tamalpais Avenue.

School Music Program Is Recognized

An old English singing program put on by two classes at Gallinas School is to be featured in the news publication of the Metropolitan Opera Co. of New York.

Hugo Rinaldi, head of the music department of San Rafael City Schools, said members of the opera company were interested in the reaction of a sixth grade group to the San Francisco Opera last November.

Seeing "Rigoletto" by Verdi led to further study of opera by classes of Mrs. Beverly Wormuth and Neil McPhail at Gallinas School.

The study ended last month with a small scale re-creation of the songfests of the old English guilds and master singers. Instead of vying for a fair maiden's hand, they competed for fun.

Mrs. Dorothy Wall, music consultant, said a photographer sponsored by the San Francisco Opera Co. will come to Gallinas School Wednesday afternoon and to see how opera studies entered the school program.

Polio Shots Rule Is Due

Polio vaccinations will soon be a requirement for enrollment of children and adults in Marin public schools.

Administrators of all Marin County schools have been sent a letter from County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis calling for preparation of forms notifying students of the need for at least one Salk polio shot before registration can be completed for next fall.

The only exceptions are for religious or health reasons.

The Hollis letter said although students may be admitted with one shot they must complete three shots to satisfy the regulations of the new state poliamyelitis immunization law.

New students, children or adults, this spring will have to give evidence of having one shot in order to enroll.

Students who cannot avail themselves of a private physician will be able to obtain inoculations through the county health department.

School Open House

Open house for the new Tomales Bay Union School will be held at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the school. Dr. Virgil Hollis, county superintendent of schools, is guest speaker.

Why it's more costly to be cozy right now!

Now that the hibernating season is here, the bear fact is that you spend more time indoors. Longer nights, darker days, colder weather means you use more lights and heat, cook more hot meals, watch more TV. And you've probably added more appliances, too. So it's perfectly normal for your PG&E bill to be a little bigger these days. But doesn't it make it a little more bearable . . . when you know that the price of PG&E gas and electricity for a typical home is 8% less than it was 30 years ago!

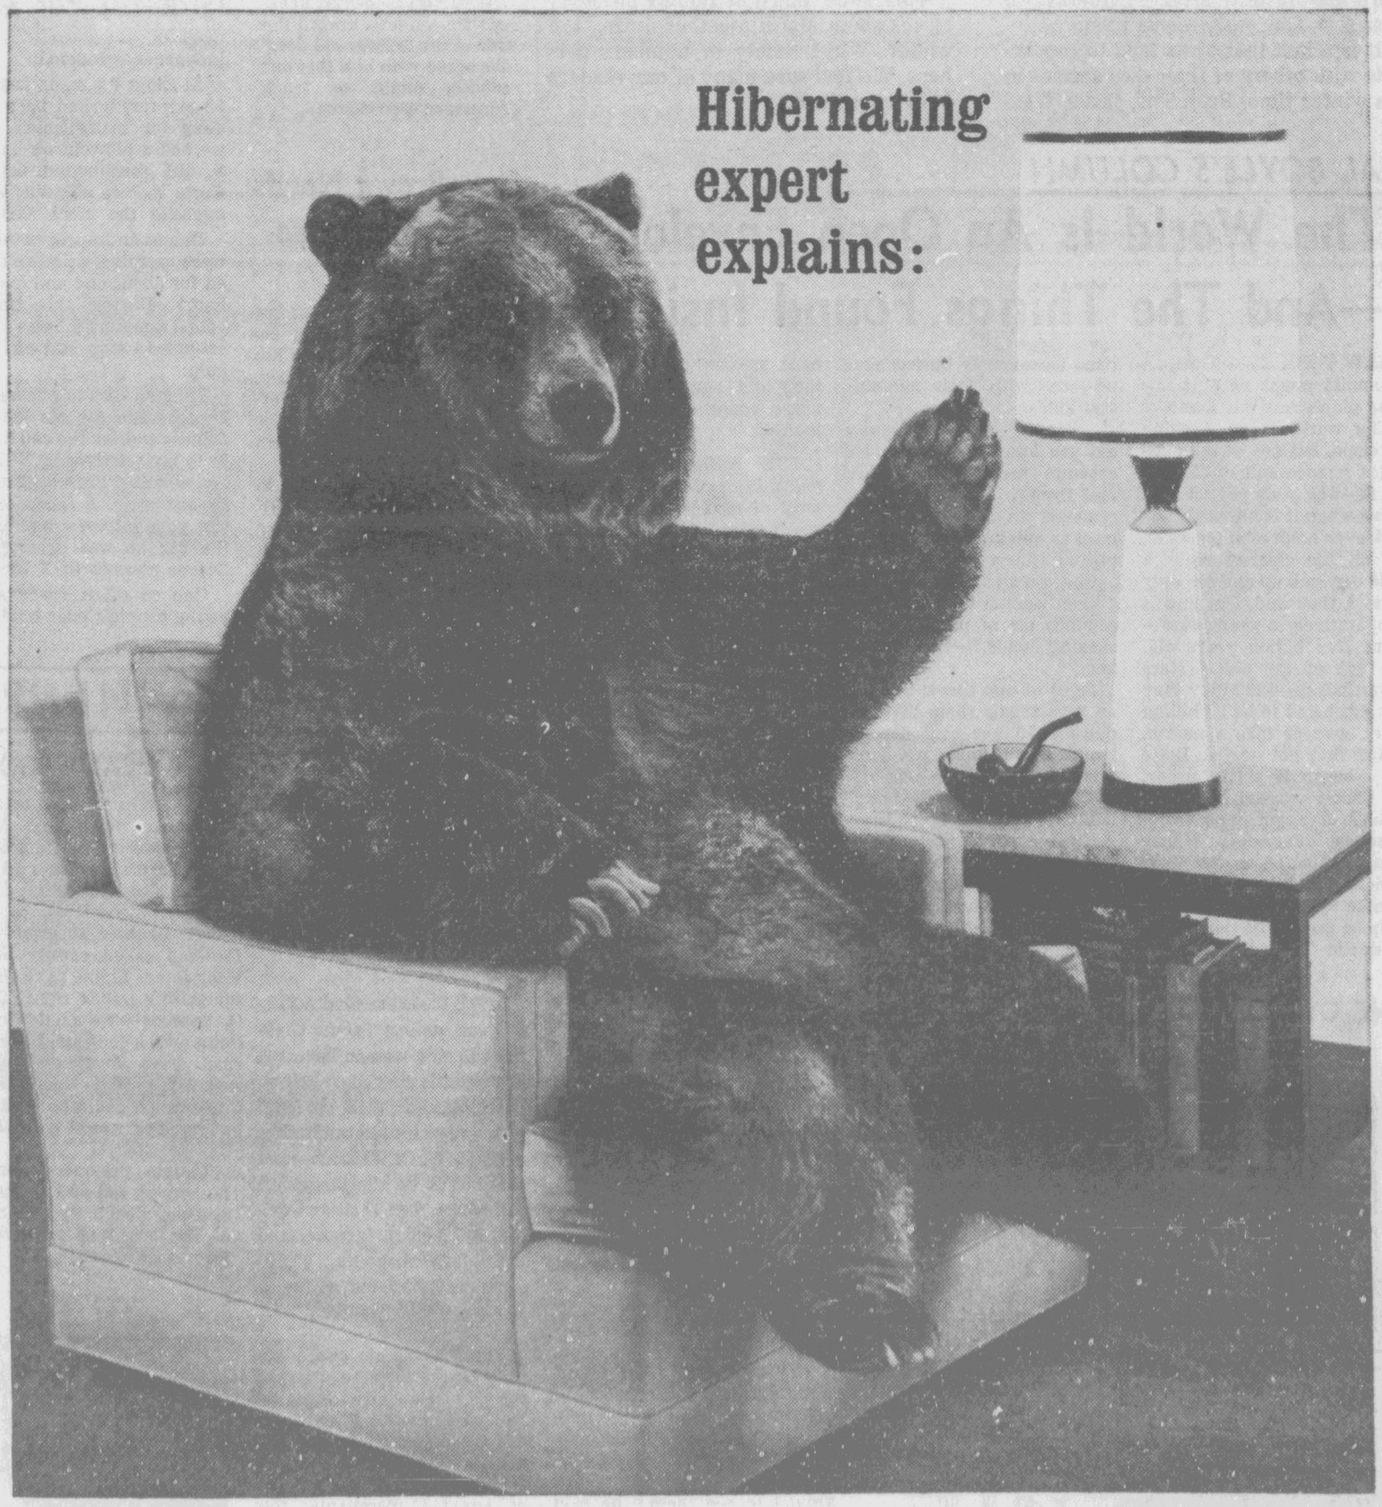
Hibernating expert explains:



Why it's more costly to be cozy right now!

Now that the hibernating season is here, the bear fact is that you spend more time indoors. Longer nights, darker days, colder weather means you use more lights and heat, cook more hot meals, watch more TV. And you've probably added more appliances, too. So it's perfectly normal for your PG&E bill to be a little bigger these days. But doesn't it make it a little more bearable . . . when you know that the price of PG&E gas and electricity for a typical home is 8% less than it was 30 years ago!

Commuters' Plea For Action On Bridge Deserves Support

Commuters are beginning to feel the pinch which we have been predicting in this column for several years.

The traffic "saturation point is no longer in the vague future but almost upon us . . . ever increasing traffic congestion between Marin and San Francisco . . . a second bridge is essential."

Do those words have a familiar ring?

Very similar ones have appeared in this space from time to time over the past several years.

But the phrases quoted above actually are from a commuter spokesman's letter to the Board of Supervisors.

The spokesman is President Edward J. Boessenecker of the Mill Valley Commuters Club.

He urges the supervisors to take action to bring about an alleviation of the situation.

And we heartily endorse his plea.

We think planning should begin at once on a new bridge.

The matter of location is of major importance.

We do not believe a parallel bridge across the Golden Gate would solve the problem, but we could be wrong.

We would like to see origin and destination studies integrated with population growth projections. We expect that an increasingly large proprotion of San Francisco-bound traffic will originate from points north of Alto hill.

If this be true, a bridge connecting the Tiburon peninsula to San Francisco (if such be feasible from the engineering standpoint) would seemingly best serve Marin. First, it would relieve traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge making it relatively uncongested for Southern Marin users. Second, it would provide a route more or less exclusively for users from more northerly parts of the county, since Southern Marin users would presumably still use the Golden Gate bridge, a new northern span would enjoy some freedom of congestion, too.

A new bridge, designed to accommodate rapid transit, would answer another question, too: whether it is feasible to put rails on the Golden Gate bridge.

As we say, we heartily endorse the commuters' plea for supervisor action toward accelerating the studying and planning processes.

As the commuter letter says, "The need is pressing. The problem is growing."

A Convention Of Robins

A group of at least a hundred Robins filled our trees and the neighbor's orchard for several hours last week. It was a regular Robin convention.

They were not migrants because migration flies most birds thin and these were the fattest, sleekest Robins we ever saw. Obviously Marin products.

It is a fact that birds tend to congregate with others of their own species in the winter time. Bush Tits, Cedar Waxwings and Flickers flock together regularly.

But to see more than a hundred handsome, plump, red-breasted Robins swirling in the air and preening on the trees and fences was a sight to remember.

This same bunch of Robins probably moves about Marin together during the winter. Why? Safety in numbers perhaps. We feel sure many of our readers have seen them.

The World Is An Open Envelope —And The Things Found Inside?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

The world is an opening envelope, but one of the mysteries science still can't fathom is—why your pet cat says meow when it is hungry.

Heaven holds a billion stars, but on the clearest night a child can look up and see only about a thousand. Our sun is comparatively a young star—about five billion years old. The age of the oldest stars in our galaxy—the Milky Way—is estimated to be 20 billion years, give or take a month.

How they got started: Bette Davis began as a film usher. Sid Caesar worked briefly as a movie doorman. John Barrymore was a cartoonist. Walter Winchell hoofed on the other side of the bright lights before he took pen in hand.

Spice used to be the variety of death. The ancient Egyptians customarily buried peppercorns with their mummified kings.

Speaking of condiments, did you know that salt is an absolute variety of life? A diet from which all salt was removed would kill you almost as quickly as if you tried to live utterly without water.

Our quotable notables: "When women kiss, it always reminds me of prize fighters shaking hands."—H. L. Mencken.

Signs of our times: Seen at an auto repair shop: "We require a 50 per cent deposit from all customers we don't know, and 100 per cent deposit from some we do know."

Life gets better every year: A new "split personality" electric toaster now can brown each of four slices of bread to individual tastes.

Wisecracks of the week: Actor Oscar Homolka says most women don't save for their old age because they never count on being older than 40.

THE BIBLICAL span of man's life is 70 years—which most of us now can hope to reach after 5,000 years of human civilization. Zoo records have established these longevity figures for other creatures: Giant tortoise, 152 years; box turtle, 123; great horned owl, 68; snapping turtle, 57; eagle 55; toad, 36; bullfrog, 30; English sparrow 23; wolf, 16; beaver, 12.

The moral here, if there is one is: "If you enjoy living, be as busy as a tortoise—and to heck with the eager beavers.'

NOW GET THIS straight: A Belgian hare isn't a hare, it's a rabbit. And the jackrabbit isn't a rabbit, it's a hare. Hares have longer legs than rabbits and a different digestive tract. Rabbits are born hairless and don't open their eyes for a week or so. Hares are born fuzzy and wide-eyed.

It was Abraham Lincoln who observed, "It has been my experience that folks who have no vices have very few virtues."

LONDON (AP) — The newest thing in art galleries is a launderette in a suburb of London.

The owner, Michael Osterweil, 29, is a painter and 30 of his canvasses hang between the bottles of bleach and the washing powders.

Everybody Has Different Idea On Where Slide Ranch Gets Name

ON SHORELINE HIGHWAY there's a ranch named Slide.

The reason for the name, according to Joe Rodrigues who raised white face cattle there five years but now lives at Muir Beach, is because of winter slides on the sloping land.

"It is the blue clay which slides," says Rodrigues. "Every year you lose maybe an acre or half an acre going down to the ocean. Blue clay runs like water."

But, Mrs. Julia Dias, who grew up on the ranch, says it is called Slide because of a big slide before 1904 when she moved there. She was five and one of five children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Amaral Roberts. Mrs. Dias said four of the children went to school by horse and cart to Mill Valley but she could not go because there wasn't room in the cart.

MICHAEL GENSBURGER, living at the ranch now with his wife, Jackie, says he does not know the reason for the name but says "It's probably due either to the San Andreas fault or old age. Everything slides, slides."

For example, he said, his barn, milking shed and back porch of his house are all sliding. He showed us a building which had collapsed and a reinforced concrete area in the shed which has bulged upward 18 inches. Once, he said, he found in a field a great chunk of asphalt which he believes slid from the highway.

Gengurber swears, although no one will back him, a large rock in the sea which was cracked when he arrived a year ago, is cracking more widely daily.

At the back of Genburger's house we met Hannibal, a fearless red Hereford steer. One year old, he weighs 790 pounds. He is really built. Gensburg said he hopes to have more Hannibals.

We also met what the rancher called "a mixed up heifer," a milk cow, Lulu, who gives eight gallons of milk a day.

Then we smelled skunk. The 25-year-old Shanghai-born rancher said, "The place is wild with skunks." "What do you do?" we asked. "Shoot some," he replied, "and owls get some. But," he added, "not enough owls."

GENSBURGER, who is secretary-manager of the Muir Beach Community Services District which provides Muir Beach water, says Slide has two springs but one has bad water, the other no volume.

"There are millions of thistles here," said the affable rancher, "planted by a previous rancher for silage." He said he is trying to put an end to the thistles by planting clover. He has no tractor but cultivates with a 1934 steam beer truck from Sausalito with chains on its rear tires.

We walked along the slope to see the herd of 50 cattle Gensburger looks after and were met by the rancher's horse, "Stormy." Stormy nuzzled his master several times and later, in togetherness, stepped on my heel.

Fishing is good, Gensburger said. Eel, cod, perch. There are plenty of deer, some raccoons, rabbits and bobcats.

In a broken down garden near the house were pear and fig trees and China lilies bloomed in rows. "Birds ate all the figs last year," said Gensburger. He added that "first time I brought my wife here she wouldn't go into the house. The next time we came we tried the front door and it fell off. The wood stove works fine."

He said he lost a window the other night which "blew out." Because "it's windy as anything here."

Gensburger, who used to sell pharmaceuticals in Marin for a living, said he prefers farming. "I'm the first farmer in the family," he said. "My dad was a stock broker."

WALTER LIPPMANN

Both Sides Would Gain From Negotiated Berlin Settlement

TALKING RECENTLY with a journalistic colleague whom I greatly respect we came to the point whether it is possible to negotiate agreements with the Soviet Union.

The crucial point was that my friend regards a negotiation as an interchange in which one side wins and the other side loses. I was brought up to believe that a true negotiation is one that leads to an agreement in which each side gains more than it gives up. In the long run the agreements which work and are observed are those whose provisions insure that both parties would lose much, and neither would gain anything comparable, by breaking them.

I do not know, of course, whether that kind of agreement can be negotiated about Berlin. We have made one successful negotiation with the Soviet Union since the war. That was about Austria. Whether anything comparable can be done about Berlin is not clear now and we shall have to wait and see what the exploratory talks now under way produce. But what I think I do know is that we must try for such an agreement because the disadvantages of not getting one will grow heavier for us. Because I believe that the losses from refusing to negotiate will also grow heavier for the Soviet Union, I dare to believe that a modus vivendi can be found.

WHAT WOULD WE lose by following Gen. de Gaulle's line and refusing to negotiate? We have already had, I submit, one spectacular demonstration of the kind of risk that lies in refusing to negotiate. Last summer after the Krushchev-Kennedy meeting in Vienna, the United States policy was to carry out a partial mobilization in order to validate the firmness of our purpose and at the same time to begin negotiations with Moscow. In July, Gen. de Gaulle vetoed the negotiations which not only Britain and the United States but even West Germany, although reluctantly, were willing to enter upon.

It was not merely a coincidence that a very few weeks after this refusal to negotiate Khrushchev approved the erection of the wall in Berlin.

NOW, WITH BERLIN divided by the wall, the Western position in West Berlin is weaker than it was last July. The refugees from the East are locked in. The division of Germany is marked by the wall and the West has acquiesced in that symbolic division. We have lost so much ground that my greatest worry today is that the Soviet Union may refuse to negotiate, having decided that West Berlin will wither if its freedom, its rights of access, and its function are not restated and reaffirmed.

Why will West Berlin wither? Because if there is no negotiated status, the West Berliners will never know from hour to hour how their life and their trade may be harassed. They cannot live forever, or for long, on the promise that we shall react to this cat and mouse treatment. There must be some foundation of confidence if young men are to plan their lives in West Berlin and if people are to invest their savings. The object of negotiations is to create such a foundation of confidence. Without it we cannot do what we have promised to do for West Berlin.

SO GREAT IS our need to arrive at an agreed status for West Berlin that, as I said above, the temptation in Moscow to refuse it must be big. But there are, I believe, countervailing reasons in Moscow which will lead the Soviet Union to work out an arrangement. The paramount reason is that in Berlin there is a direct confrontation of the two nuclear powers. Neither they nor we can live indefinitely on the brink of nuclear war.

There is, I believe, another reason why Moscow has a serious interest in arriving at an agreement. It is that an agreement which stabilizes the situation of West Berlin will reduce the tension and tend to stabilize as against popular uprisings the situation in East Germany and Eastern Europe.

Some Westerners will say that this is just why we ought not to make such an agreement. But I think they are mistaken. They are mistaken not only because an uprising in Eastern Europe in which the Western powers intervene would inevitably lead to the third World War. For beyond that, a stabilization which reduces the pressure of discontent will also reduce the necessity of an iron discipline, permitting a better life for the people of Eastern Europe and a gradual rapprochement with the West.

It is to the advantage of both sides to stabilize, and true negotiaton defines terms of mutual advantage for that stabilization.

He looked questioningly at the horse thief who nodded, "Okay, but on one condition. Hang me first."

Whether anything comparable can be done about Berlin is not clear now and we shall have to wait and see what the exploratory talks now under way produce. But what I think I do know is that we must try for such an agreement because the disadvantages of not getting one will grow heavier for us. Because I believe that the losses from refusing to negotiate will also grow heavier for the Soviet Union, I dare to believe that a modus vivendi can be found.

WHAT WOULD WE lose by following Gen. de Gaulle's line and refusing to negotiate? We have already had, I submit, one spectacular demonstration of the kind of risk that lies in refusing to negotiate. Last summer after the Krushchev-Kennedy meeting in Vienna, the United States policy was to carry out a partial mobilization in order to validate the firmness of our purpose and at the same time to begin negotiations with Moscow. In July, Gen. de Gaulle vetoed the negotiations which not only Britain and the United States but even West Germany, although reluctantly, were willing to enter upon.

It was not merely a coincidence that a very few weeks after this refusal to negotiate Khrushchev approved the erection of the wall in Berlin.

NOW, WITH BERLIN divided by the wall, the Western position in West Berlin is weaker than it was last July. The refugees from the East are locked in. The division of Germany is marked by the wall and the West has acquiesced in that symbolic division. We have lost so much ground that my greatest worry today is that the Soviet Union may refuse to negotiate, having decided that West Berlin will wither if its freedom, its rights of access, and its function are not restated and reaffirmed.

Why will West Berlin wither? Because if there is no negotiated status, the West Berliners will never know from hour to hour how their life and their trade may be harassed. They cannot live forever, or for long, on the promise that we shall react to this cat and mouse treatment. There must be some foundation of confidence if young men are to plan their lives in West Berlin and if people are to invest their savings. The object of negotiations is to create such a foundation of confidence. Without it we cannot do what we have promised to do for West Berlin.

SO GREAT IS our need to arrive at an agreed status for West Berlin that, as I said above, the temptation in Moscow to refuse it must be big. But there are, I believe, countervailing reasons in Moscow which will lead the Soviet Union to work out an arrangement. The paramount reason is that in Berlin there is a direct confrontation of the two nuclear powers. Neither they nor we can live indefinitely on the brink of nuclear war.

There is, I believe, another reason why Moscow has a serious interest in arriving at an agreement. It is that an agreement which stabilizes the situation of West Berlin will reduce the tension and tend to stabilize as against popular uprisings the situation in East Germany and Eastern Europe.

Some Westerners will say that this is just why we ought not to make such an agreement. But I think they are mistaken. They are mistaken not only because an uprising in Eastern Europe in which the Western powers intervene would inevitably lead to the third World War. For beyond that, a stabilization which reduces the pressure of discontent will also reduce the necessity of an iron discipline, permitting a better life for the people of Eastern Europe and a gradual rapprochement with the West.

It is to the advantage of both sides to stabilize, and true negotiaton defines terms of mutual advantage for that stabilization.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

They were hanging a horse thief out in the wide open spaces and after adjusting the noose, the sheriff asked the doomed man if he wanted to say a few last words. "Nope," said the horse thief. Thereupon a silver-haired gent jumped up to the gallows and proclaimed, "I'm a candidate for lieutenant governor in this state, and if this unfortunate gentleman will let me use his time I'll have a few remarks for you." He looked questioningly at the horse thief who nodded, "Okay, but on one condition. Hang me first."

Driver, Passenger Hurt As Cars Hit On Road

A driver and woman passenger suffered minor injuries yesterday afternoon when their car left Highway 101 north of the Linden Lane overpass in San Rafael and plunged into a ditch just short of the railroad tracks.

Robert Cody English, an electrician, was driving south at 5:15 p.m. when he braked sharply due, he later said, to obstruction from a car ahead. His vehicle swung right and over the shoulder to land in a 10-foot ditch.

English was treated at San Rafael General Hospital for bruised nose and right knee while Rosetta A. Smith received treatment for bruised eyes, nose and ribs.

California Highway Patrolman Richard De Marco found by tire marks that the car had driven left of a two-foot ribbed divider and cited English on a charge of crossing the divider before his right swerve.

The first wireless message ever sent across an ocean was "Dot, dot, dot," Morse code for the letter S.

Pistol Waver Must Pay Fine

Lonnie Phillip, 48, of 59 Cole Street, Marin City, must pay $78 fine and remain on six months probation for waving a .32 pistol during a Marin City dice game last Dec. 23.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him for exhibiting a firearm in a rude and threatening manner.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Phillip after a complaint by Otis Given of 419 Drake Avenue, Marin City. Given told investigators he thought the dice were loaded and complained, whereupon Phillip pulled the pistol and told him to leave the dice alone.

THESE BAREFOOT MEN HAD LOTS OF CHEEK

The spectacle of two barefoot men wiping off a car with their socks at the end of Grove Street in San Rafael yesterday struck a nearby resident as somewhat unusual.

Police, notified by the curious resident, found the men had fled by the time they arrived. The car, they found, was registered to Mrs. Carlotta C. Johnson of 1210 Fifth Avenue of San Rafael.

Mrs. Johnson said she had parked her car in front of her home at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. She did not know it was missing until police called her.

Police opined the thieves were undoubtedly wiping off fingerprints.

It Was Raining B-Bs In Marin Over Weekend

B-Bs were raining down in certain spots in Marin over the week end.

San Rafael police confiscated a B-B gun from a 14-year-old boy at 1:01 p.m. Saturday after Joseph De Luca of 201 Marin Street complained that, while working in his garden, he heard B-Bs hitting the roof of his house. He looked up and saw a boy at a nearby house with a B-B gun in his hand.

Officers took B-B guns from two boys, one 14 and one a pupil at San Pedro school, at 4:22 p.m. Saturday who admitted shooting in vicinity of Irwin Street and Tiburon Boulevard.

George A. Sherman of 25 Harbor Cove, Mill Valley, reported to the sheriff's office at 10 a.m. Friday B-B damage in the past two weeks to two new houses he is building in Reedlands.

Sausalito planning commissioners have recommended city council approval of a variance and a use permit to allow Perego, Harney and Teague, Inc., to build a second multi-story apartment in Buena Vista Heights.

The tower apartment is to be nine stories and include 36 units. It will be identical to one approved last year by the council.

They Met On May Day, Now Married 50 Years

A May Day festival in 1911 first brought Victor Antolini and Rose Leoncini together.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Antolini the couple celebrated 50 years of marriage yesterday at their home at 16 Bungalow Avenue in San Rafael.

With them were their three children, Lawrence Antolini of San Anselmo, and Mrs. Frank Milani and Mrs. Louis Milani of San Rafael. Also attending the party were nine grandchildren and many close friends of the couple.

Also at the anniversary party were Mrs. Antolini's brother, Louis Leoncini Sr. of San Anselmo. Her sister, Mrs. Louise Webster, lives in Massachusetts.

Born in Italy, Antolini came to the United States when he was 11 years old. She was 8 on her arrival in America. They were married in Millford, Mass., on Jan. 14, 1912, when he was 21, she 19.

An iron foundry worker, he brought his wife to California in 1922, settling in San Anselmo. He turned to landscape gardening because he was unable to find an iron foundry in Marin where he might ply his original trade.

Beginning with odd jobs and yard work, he soon became a full time gardener and worked at the profession until two years ago when he retired and moved to San Rafael.

Retirement, however, did not mean inactivity. Antolini found he had more time for his favorite hobbies — mushroom hunting and fishing.

He is also an ardent hiker and still, at 71, hikes daily among San Rafael's hills.

Mrs. Antolini, more the stay-at-home type, spends her spare time crocheting. Also gardening — with an occasional assist from the family expert.

Arm, Leg Broken As Car Goes Into Highway Ditch

A San Francisco woman suffered fractures of right arm and right leg yesterday when the car in which she was riding with her husband left the road and went into a ditch one mile north of Novato on Highway 101.

Mrs. William James O'Brien, 75, was treated at Novato Hospital for her broken limbs plus a cut on her right eye and transferred to a San Francisco hospital. Her husband, 77, was uninjured.

California Highway Patrolman T. W. Foley said a witness reported another vehicle changed lanes in front of O'Brien's car. Novato firemen helped remove Mrs. O'Brien, who was pinned in the car.

Widest selection

Cadillac lets you choose from by far the widest selection in the luxury car field. With 13 body styles, 23 colors and 139 interior combinations, chances are slight indeed that you will ever see another Cadillac just like yours. As a matter of fact, Cadillac could build its present model for 10 years without duplicating a car. This variety is typical of Cadillac's concern for your individual taste in fine cars. Your Cadillac dealer will be pleased to help you in your personal choice of the "car of cars".

Midwest Hit By Snowstorm; Traffic In Chicago Snarled

A new snowstorm plastered today broad areas of the Midwest still digging out from last week's storm. A blast of arctic cold added to the woes of residents in the area.

Thousands of automobiles were immobilized on heavily traveled and side streets in Chicago where inches of new snow piled on top of four inches left from the earlier storm.

The storm, which swept northeastward from eastern Kansas and Oklahoma, dumped from one to seven inches of snow in a belt extending from northern Missouri northeastward across Illinois and into southeast Wisconsin, western Michigan and Illinois.

The influx of colder air turned rain into snow in southern Indiana.

State highways were snowpacked and icy throughout Illinois and motorists were alerted for occasional one-way traffic caused by drifting.

In Chicago, the heavy wet snow tilted down some fire escapes on factories and office buildings and activated burglar alarms.

Nearly 500 workers toiled throughout the night to keep main streets open to traffic in Chicago.

Glenwood Group Names Madigan As President

John J. Madigan of 197 Knight Drive, San Rafael, San Francisco bureau manager for the United Press International, has been elected president of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. He and his family have lived in Glenwood for three years.

Others elected at the meeting at the Church of the Redeemer were William Fry of 16 Maplewood Drive, vice president; John Irwin of 182 Knight Drive, secretary; and Richard Daunt of 36 Robinhood Drive, treasurer.

Retiring president Joseph R. Jackson was named to the architectural supervisory committee, and Howard Simon, also a former president, was named historian.

Madigan said he will name standing committees in the next few weeks. The association next will meet Feb. 7.

Inverness Fires Total Is Given

Inverness had only seven fires, with total damage of $150, in 1961, Ruth B. Cantwell, secretary of the Inverness Public Utility District board, has reported.

She said Richard Graveson, volunteer fire chief, reported turnout was satisfactory during the year by the volunteer firemen. There also were three resuscitator calls, Graveson told the board's meeting Tuesday night.

The board Wednesday night voted to purchase two rakes, two salvage covers, one high-power voltage cutter, one new nozzle and one reducer for attaching hose to hydrant for the fire department.

The board also decided to ask Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. about the possibility of having an outside alarm on the firehouse, so residents may sound it in event they are unable to raise the chief or other volunteers.

High Court Will Rule In Two Test Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule later this year in two test cases, one involving milk and the other monopoly.

The monopoly case consisted of an appeal from a New York federal judge's ruling that Pan American World Airways has been illegally monopolizing air commerce between this country and South America.

Also at issue is a Justice Department claim that the anti-trust decision should have been directed partly against W. R. Grace & Co., which operates a steamship line to South America's west coast ports.

In accepting the milk case, the court agreed to consider California's appeal from a ruling that dairy farmers and distributors may ignore state minimum price rules in selling to military bases.

Army Calls For Dredging Bids

The Army Corps of Engineers has issued another call for bids for dredging the San Rafael Canal, to be opened Jan. 25.

San Rafael City Manager Dan E. Anderson, who has received word of the new call said, time for bid opening will be 2 p.m. in room 300 of the Corps of Engineers district office at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

An earlier bid call was cancelled after L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of the San Rafael Newport Co. wrote Col. John A. Morrison, district engineer, expressing fears that the planned dredging would cause collapse of canalside lots. Specifications for the job were subsequently re-drafted.

The project has been allocated $180,000 in federal funds.

Assault Case Of McCardell Is Continued

At request of Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales preliminary hearing for Charles McCardell, 35-year-old San Francisco naval architect accused of felony assault, was continued in Marin Municipal Court today to Feb. 19, at 1:30 p.m.

Judge Harold J. Haley granted the request, agreed to by defense attorney J. A. McMahon, after Bales said the district attorney's office wanted time to consider how to dispose of the case.

McCardell was charged with slugging Denton S. Winn, 37, of Petaluma, with an 18-inch combination jackhandle and lug wrench after he said he found Winn in a bedroom with his estranged wife, Elaine McCardell, 40, at her home in Tamalpais Valley Nov. 26.

Winn and Mrs. McCardell were suspended from their jobs as teachers in the San Jose School district after the slugging. They resigned Dec. 6.

GIRLS INJURED AS TRUCK RUNS WILD

SAN BRUNO (AP) — Two young girls, playing in a yard, were seriously injured yesterday when a runaway truck careened down a steep street and struck them.

Patricia Malone, 5, and Janine Selina, 8, were taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Police said the vehicle, which had been parked by L. L. Wrona, 21, bumped onto the sidewalk, hit the girls and then struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Macdougall.

Marin General Hospital Wants To Move Laundry

Permission to move the laundry and central services function of Marin General Hospital from the old building to the basement of the new Babcock Memorial Wing under construction is being sought from the State Bureau of Hospitals, Administrator William W. Turner said today.

Turner said after a special meeting of the hospital district board Saturday that Barrett Construction Co. announced it would add to its work force to complete the wing by scheduled spring, 1963.

He said delay on the work was caused by a change in a subcontractor to do the excavation. The new subcontractor did not begin work for a month, he said.

The board will hold its next regular meeting Jan. 23.

Catholic Unit Announces Stand Against Paganism

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church ecumenical council will take a firm stand against rising currents of paganism, a communique announced today.

The communique was issued by the council's central preparatory commission at its third session.

The commission did not mention communism by name. But Vatican sources said that the communique indicated that atheistic communism would be included in the council's condemnation of paganism.

Officially proclaimed by Pope John XXIII on Christmas Day, the council will be convened late this year. The exact date has not been set. The council will bring to Rome about 3,000 cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops, priests and specialists in church matters.

The council will be dedicated to affairs of the Roman Catholic Church, but Pope John has frequently expressed the hope that it also will serve as astep toward world Christian unity.

At the conclusion of a secret session, the commission issued its communique saying the forthcoming council will condemn rising currents of paganism, including those which "by abusing psychoanalysis attempt to justify what is directly in contrast with the moral order."

Bolinas Fire Unit Asks That Ford Stay On

Resignation of Bolinas Fire Protection District Commissioner Norman Ford was tendered to the commission last week but was not accepted since it was desired that Ford remain on until his successor is appointed.

Appointment is made by the county board of supervisors, County Clerk George S. Jones said, when a person leaves in an unfinished term.

Ford has been a volunteer fireman for 11 years and commissioner and secretary of the fire protection district for 10 years. He said he is resigning due to health reasons.

The Bolinas volunteer firemen announced their annual ladies night will be Feb. 10 at the community center.

Firehouse Date Told In Larkspur

Larkspur's second firehouse should be completed between Feb. 1 and 15, Chief George Bartram has reported to the members of the Larkspur Assn. of Volunteer Firemen.

The new firehouse will be on South Eliseo Drive in Greenbrae.

The association voted to open the Rose Bowl for dancing on June 2. The dances will run 15 Saturdays, through Sept. 15. Proceeds go toward purchasing equipment for the fire department.

Layton Thorn and Ted Smith were appointed as a committee to check the Rose Bowl for needed repairs.

San Mateo couple clean up their most pressing debts

Ever have a dozen things hit you at the same time? Doctors' bills, insurance premiums, car installments, a new washer and dryer . . . when you've got a family, you can really get hurt with bills.

One San Mateo couple found that if it hadn't been for one of these ads about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan, they frankly don't know what they would have done.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm — because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right, and you can pay even less, depending on the homeowner's plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest-only loan—or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan. And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts.

Former Convict Arraigned In Tires Theft

Oakland ex-convict William Edward Kelley, 28, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court today on a burglary charge stemming from the theft of $5,000 worth of tires in San Rafael Oct. 1.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set next Monday for pleading to the charge.

Kelley was accused of taking a van full of tires from the Goodyear Service Store at 1431 Fourth Street.

While out on bail on the tire theft charge he was arrested in a San Rafael tavern Nov. 30 with two mink jackets stolen from the San Francisco home of novelist Merla Zellerbach Sept. 27.

In 1829 Sir Charles Weatstone, an English physicist whose family made musical instruments in London, invented the bass system used in modern-day piano-accordions.

Midwest Hit By Snowstorm; Traffic In Chicago Snarled

A new snowstorm plastered today broad areas of the Midwest still digging out from last week's storm. A blast of arctic cold added to the woes of residents in the area.

Thousands of automobiles were immobilized on heavily traveled and side streets in Chicago where inches of new snow piled on top of four inches left from the earlier storm.

The storm, which swept northeastward from eastern Kansas and Oklahoma, dumped from one to seven inches of snow in a belt extending from northern Missouri northeastward across Illinois and into southeast Wisconsin, western Michigan and Illinois.

The influx of colder air turned rain into snow in southern Indiana.

State highways were snowpacked and icy throughout Illinois and motorists were alerted for occasional one-way traffic caused by drifting.

In Chicago, the heavy wet snow tilted down some fire escapes on factories and office buildings and activated burglar alarms.

Nearly 500 workers toiled throughout the night to keep main streets open to traffic in Chicago.

Glenwood Group Names Madigan As President

John J. Madigan of 197 Knight Drive, San Rafael, San Francisco bureau manager for the United Press International, has been elected president of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. He and his family have lived in Glenwood for three years.

Others elected at the meeting at the Church of the Redeemer were William Fry of 16 Maplewood Drive, vice president; John Irwin of 182 Knight Drive, secretary; and Richard Daunt of 36 Robinhood Drive, treasurer.

Retiring president Joseph R. Jackson was named to the architectural supervisory committee, and Howard Simon, also a former president, was named historian.

Madigan said he will name standing committees in the next few weeks. The association next will meet Feb. 7.

Inverness Fires Total Is Given

Inverness had only seven fires, with total damage of $150, in 1961, Ruth B. Cantwell, secretary of the Inverness Public Utility District board, has reported.

She said Richard Graveson, volunteer fire chief, reported turnout was satisfactory during the year by the volunteer firemen. There also were three resuscitator calls, Graveson told the board's meeting Tuesday night.

The board Wednesday night voted to purchase two rakes, two salvage covers, one high-power voltage cutter, one new nozzle and one reducer for attaching hose to hydrant for the fire department.

The board also decided to ask Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. about the possibility of having an outside alarm on the firehouse, so residents may sound it in event they are unable to raise the chief or other volunteers.

High Court Will Rule In Two Test Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule later this year in two test cases, one involving milk and the other monopoly.

The monopoly case consisted of an appeal from a New York federal judge's ruling that Pan American World Airways has been illegally monopolizing air commerce between this country and South America.

Also at issue is a Justice Department claim that the anti-trust decision should have been directed partly against W. R. Grace & Co., which operates a steamship line to South America's west coast ports.

In accepting the milk case, the court agreed to consider California's appeal from a ruling that dairy farmers and distributors may ignore state minimum price rules in selling to military bases.

Army Calls For Dredging Bids

The Army Corps of Engineers has issued another call for bids for dredging the San Rafael Canal, to be opened Jan. 25.

San Rafael City Manager Dan E. Anderson, who has received word of the new call said, time for bid opening will be 2 p.m. in room 300 of the Corps of Engineers district office at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

An earlier bid call was cancelled after L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of the San Rafael Newport Co. wrote Col. John A. Morrison, district engineer, expressing fears that the planned dredging would cause collapse of canalside lots. Specifications for the job were subsequently re-drafted.

The project has been allocated $180,000 in federal funds.

He was chosen president to succeed Evan T. Pugh of Belvedere. Other new officers elected for 1962 are James D. Russell of Ross, vice president and Clifton C. Cordes of Fairfax, secretary.

The mosquito abatement board approved purchase of a new insecticide applicator for $1,100 to fight tree-hole mosquitos, and asked Max S. Martin, the insurance servicing agent, to increase insurance on district property to keep up with the rise in valuation.

At request of Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales preliminary hearing for Charles McCardell, 35-year-old San Francisco naval architect accused of felony assault, was continued in Marin Municipal Court today to Feb. 19, at 1:30 p.m.

Judge Harold J. Haley granted the request, agreed to by defense attorney J. A. McMahon, after Bales said the district attorney's office wanted time to consider how to dispose of the case.

McCardell was charged with slugging Denton S. Winn, 37, of Petaluma, with an 18-inch combination jackhandle and lug wrench after he said he found Winn in a bedroom with his estranged wife, Elaine McCardell, 40, at her home in Tamalpais Valley Nov. 26.

Winn and Mrs. McCardell were suspended from their jobs as teachers in the San Jose School district after the slugging. They resigned Dec. 6.

GIRLS INJURED AS TRUCK RUNS WILD

SAN BRUNO (UPI) — Two young girls, playing in a yard, were seriously injured yesterday when a runaway truck careened down a steep street and struck them.

Patricia Malone, 5, and Janine Selina, 8, were taken to Peninsula Hospital.

Police said the vehicle, which had been parked by L. L. Wrona, 21, bumped onto the sidewalk, hit the girls and then struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Macdougall.

Marin General Hospital Wants To Move Laundry

Permission to move the laundry and central services function of Marin General Hospital from the old building to the basement of the new Babcock Memorial Wing under construction is being sought from the State Bureau of Hospitals, Administrator William W. Turner said today.

Turner said after a special meeting of the hospital district board Saturday that Barrett Construction Co. announced it would add to its work force to complete the wing by scheduled spring, 1963.

He said delay on the work was caused by a change in a subcontractor to do the excavation. The new subcontractor did not begin work for a month, he said.

The board will hold its next regular meeting Jan. 23.

Catholic Unit Announces Stand Against Paganism

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The Roman Catholic Church ecumenical council will take a firm stand against rising currents of paganism, a communique announced today.

The communique was issued by the council's central preparatory commission at its third session.

The commission did not mention communism by name. But Vatican sources said that the communique indicated that atheistic communism would be included in the council's condemnation of paganism.

Officially proclaimed by Pope John XXIII on Christmas Day, the council will be convened late this year. The exact date has not been set. The council will bring to Rome about 3,000 cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, bishops, priests and specialists in church matters.

The council will be dedicated to affairs of the Roman Catholic Church, but Pope John has frequently expressed the hope that it also will serve as astep toward world Christian unity.

At the conclusion of a secret session, the commission issued its communique saying the forthcoming council will condemn rising currents of paganism, including those which "by abusing psychoanalysis attempt to justify what is directly in contrast with the moral order."

Bolinas Fire Unit Asks That Ford Stay On

Resignation of Bolinas Fire Protection District Commissioner Norman Ford was tendered to the commission last week but was not accepted since it was desired that Ford remain on until his successor is appointed.

Appointment is made by the county board of supervisors, County Clerk George S. Jones said, when a person leaves in an unfinished term.

Ford has been a volunteer fireman for 11 years and commissioner and secretary of the fire protection district for 10 years. He said he is resigning due to health reasons.

The Bolinas volunteer firemen announced their annual ladies night will be Feb. 10 at the community center.

Firehouse Date Told In Larkspur

Larkspur's second firehouse should be completed between Feb. 1 and 15, Chief George Bartram has reported to the members of the Larkspur Assn. of Volunteer Firemen.

The new firehouse will be on South Eliseo Drive in Greenbrae.

The association voted to open the Rose Bowl for dancing on June 2. The dances will run 15 Saturdays, through Sept. 15. Proceeds go toward purchasing equipment for the fire department.

Layton Thorn and Ted Smith were appointed as a committee to check the Rose Bowl for needed repairs.

Former Convict Arraigned In Tires Theft

Oakland ex-convict William Edward Kelley, 28, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court today on a burglary charge stemming from the theft of $5,000 worth of tires in San Rafael Oct. 1.

Judge Thomas F. Keating set next Monday for pleading to the charge.

Kelley was accused of taking a van full of tires from the Goodyear Service Store at 1431 Fourth Street.

While out on bail on the tire theft charge he was arrested in a San Rafael tavern Nov. 30 with two mink jackets stolen from the San Francisco home of novelist Merla Zellerbach Sept. 27.

In 1829 Sir Charles Weatstone, an English physicist whose family made musical instruments in London, invented the bass system used in modern-day piano-accordions.

San Mateo couple clean up their most pressing debts

Ever have a dozen things hit you at the same time? Doctors bills, insurance premiums, car installments, a new washer and dryer . . . when you've got a family, you can really get hurt with bills.

One San Mateo couple found that if it hadn't been for one of these ads about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan, they frankly don't know what they would have done.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm — because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right, and you can pay even less, depending on the homeowner's plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest-only loan—or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan. And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts.

Tars Score First League Victory

College of Marin Tars basketball team felt half good at school today.

This past weekend they won and lost back-to-back Golden Valley Conference road games. Saturday night, the Tars ruined Shasta College, 72-65, and Friday in their 1962 conference debut, they blew it to Siskiyou Junior College, a rookie outfit. That nightmare was 69-54.

Wiry, five-foot-seven Charlie Bullock came off the reserve bench to pace the Tars in both games. Friday he was high man with 12 points, and he led the Marinites to victory Saturday with 20 points. The Tars' usual big guns, Lynn Livie and Randy Petrini, have been in a two-week slump. Reserve forward Steve Bryant (6-3, 170) chalked 15 counts for Marin against Shasta.

Coach Cal Riemcke praised Bill Walace and Bob Melbern for their defensive peformances Saturday.

In that game, Shasta got off to an early lead of 10-4. Bullock and Bryant began to hit and got Marin back in play. The lead exchanged sides several times until a few minutes before the halftime gun. At this point the Tars opened up offensively and tallied 12 straight before Shasta could even get its breath. The Tars protected their lead in the second half with no problems. The closest Shasta came to the Marin squad was the final score.

Riemcke said he felt his Tars would have a good chance—if they play "as a Team" like they played against Shasta—to beat American River Junior College Friday. It will be the Tars' first home conference game of the season (Redwood High, 8 p.m.). The Tars play a non-conference game against Foothill College at Drake High tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Brown Is Hero, Then Goat In Wild, Dramatic Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West emerged from the 1962 Pro Bowl, one of the wildest ever with a 31-30 victory—but it took a combination of triumph and tragedy to overturn the underdog East.

The National Football League's post-season thriller was witnessed yesterday by 57,409 Coliseum fans and a national television audience of millions.

There was a 12-yard touchdown pass by Johnny Unitas to Jon Arnett in the last two seconds, a last-minute fumble by the East's Jim Brown that paved the way for the final West score, and a blocked conversion attempt in the third period.

After it was over, Brown — named the most valuable player—said he felt more like a goat.

With five minutes left, the brilliant Cleveland fullback shook off four tacklers and bulldozed 70 yards to a touchdown, giving the East a 30-24 edge.

Then on a routine running play with slightly more than a minute left, Brown fumbled. Chicago's Bill George, who pried the ball loose from Brown, recovered it.

With a minute left and the ball on the East's 41, Unitas went to work. The Baltimore star passed for 15 yards to rookie Mike Ditka of Chicago and 14 yards to Colt teammate Lenny Moore. With 15 seconds left, a Unitas pass to Moore fell incomplete.

BARELY ESCAPES

As the seconds ticked away, Unitas faded, barely eluding the grasp of New York's Andy Robustelli. Rolling to his left, the quarterback spotted elusive Los Angeles halfback Jon Arnett alone in the end zone and tossed him a perfect strike.

Jim Martin of Detroit kicked the wnining conversion, his fourth of the day. Martin also booted a 27-yard field goal in the second period.

Another crucial play occurred in the third quarter when Green Bay's Henry Jordan and Detroit's Dick "Night Train" Lane broke through to bat down an Eastern conversion attempt. Jordan was named most valuable lineman. The blocked point eventually spelled defeat for the East, the loser in the last three Pro Bowl games. The West has an 8-4 edge in the series.

Brown said of his last-minute bobble: "It was sort of a wedge play into the line and somebody (George) pulled the ball out of my arm."

TERRIBLE BREAK

East Coach Allie Sherman, the New York Giants' rookie pilot, refused to pin goat horns on Brown. "Everybody fumbles. It was just a terrible break for Jim that it had to happen to him at that time."

But it was small consolation for Brown — even though he broke several Pro Bowl records by gaining 120 yards in 13 carries for a 9.25 average.

Unitas, always unruffled, said of the winning TD toss: "Mike Ditka was the primary target, but he was held up at the line. I was lucky to get out of a trap."

Unitas, most valuable player in the '60s and '61 Pro Bowls, completed 13 of 23 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns.

"I was the third choice receiver on the play," said Arnett, "and nearly lost the ball in the sun., But I don't care what I was as long as we get the big check."

Each West player got $800. The Easterners pocketed $600 apiece.

Next to Brown, the East's unhappiest player was aging quarterback Y. A. Tittle, who tossed two TD passes and completed 15 of 26 pass attempts.

The East outgained the West in first downs, 19-17; rushing 171-73, and passing yardage, 218-172.

Payday For Jacobs In San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO (AP) — There's nothing like money to boost a golfer's morale, so it was a happy Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who led the way today to the Bing Crosby clambake after winning the $25,000-San Diego Open.

Jacobs, whose last good win was at Denver in 1958, pocketed $3,500 as the winner of a dramatic sudden death playoff with another young tournament pro, Johnny Pott of Ocean Springs, Miss.

Both are 26, both are ex-collegians—Jacobs from Southern California, Pott from Louisiana State.

"This will buy a lot of baby food," said Tommy, who has to feed an eight-month-old son, Michael.

Pott was just a little less happy. "I figured I had it won around the twelth hole—then I three-putted a couple of holes," said the pleasant southerner.

Jacobs shot a final-round 65, six under par for 277, and finished early. Pott, in a better position at the start of the day, scored 69 for 277.

Pott made his bid in a pair of threesomes that included Mike Souchak, Bob Goalby, Art Wall Jr., Gary Player and Jay Hebert.

15TH PLACE

Jacobs was tied for 15th place yesterday morning. Pott was still close going into the final nine holes, but few gave him much chance to hang on with the likes of Souchak and Goalby, the cool leaders at this point.

But it was the old pros who flubbed opportunities and the younger men who battled away.

The gallery of 9,000 at the Stardust Country Club was rooting for both in the playoff.

Pott, a good-looking, dark-haired young man, got down first with a par on the extra hole. Jacobs ended matters when he sank a 14-foot putt for a birdie three.

The also rans included: George Bayer, 67-278; Art Wall, 70-278; Souchak, 72; Hebert and Goalby, 71s, all for 279; Player, 72-280.

Arnold Palmer, last year's winner, 70-283; U. S. Open champion Gene Littler, 69-282.

Jack Nicklaus, 1961 national amateur champion making his second pro tournament try, had his best round, a 67 for 282.

Phil Rodgers, spectacular winner of the Los Angeles Open a week ago for a $7,500 purse, finished with a 72 for 286, and no money.

CORINTHIAN REGATTA

Simple Strategy Pays Off For Skipper Nell

Benno Nell of the host club not only finished first with his Gentian in the Fleur Bleue Class in the Corinthian Yacht Club Regatta yesterday but also was first home for the entire fleet of 159 boats and by a good city block.

Nell's strategy was simple. When he rounded Crissy buoy he headed straight for the finish line, while the others beat up the city front to avoid the worst of the tide. But the Gentian found the tide not too much of a problem, and with a fair breeze, the scramble home was accomplished in good time and in solitary splendor.

There were a few protests because of a confusion over the course. The course sailed was course No. 6 in reverse. Instruction sheets regarding this course were somewhat ambiguous. Other than that it was a perfect day for racing. The ever prevalent north wind, while none too brisk at the start, strengthened in mid-afternoon and all boats finished strongly.

Len Delmas managed to keep all hands aboard and in consequence topped the Triton squadron with his Ryot convincingly.

Derek Bayliss has certainly found the proper groove for the spirit as he eased Chris Kiskaddon's sloop to victory in cruising club and is but 6 points behind Dr. Cross' Simba going into the final race next month.

Poor Porky's 16 On 16th Hole Lingers On In Golf Fans' Minds

HANLEY

Biggest sensation that could happen in the Bing Crosby National this week would be an ace on Cypress Point's famous 222-yard par three 16th. You could get fancy odds from Lloyd's of London against it happening. But it's a nice dream, certainly different from the nightmares No. 16 has given Crosby challengers through the years.

An ace on the world renowned water hole probably would rate as many superlatives as Don Larsen's World Series perfecto. It surely would provide a nice change of pace from the usual stuff written each year at this time about No. 16.

The late Porky Oliver no longer is around to be reminded about his 16 on 16 in the 1954 Crosby. Oliver learned to live with that reputation. In his last visit to the Crosby in 1959 he was a mellowed and seasoned actor as he approached the 16th.

In mock horror he gazed across the 200-yards of frothing ocean to the distant green, fringed with ice plant and gleaming bunkers. Then, he turned his eyes toward the safe, short route and the gallery silently waited his decision.

OLIVER TENTATIVELY pulled an iron from his bag, indicating he might play the safe route. The gallery, sensing he was putting on an act for its benefit, played right along with him and groaned, something no polite golf gathering would do without a cue.

That was all Oliver wanted to hear. He shoved the iron back in his bag and selected a wood. The crowd roared approval.

Oliver, draining the little scene for a final laugh, took a tee from his pocket and nervously tried to set it in the turf. The more he tried, the more he shook. Finally, he called on George Bayer for assistance and together they got the tee in an upright position. Then it took Oliver some time before he could balance a ball on it.

THE CROWD loved every minute of Oliver's last act on No. 16 and let loose a mighty cheer as Porky creamed the ball to the green on the distant cliff. The fact that he three putted for a bogie did not matter. There wasn't one person in that crowd that day who wasn't pulling for Oliver and he knew it.

Oliver will always be remembered for his 16 on 16 when stories are told about The Point's treacherous hole. Almost forgotten is the 19 Hans Merrell, a teaching pro from Mogardore, Ohio, took there in 1959. Even the memory of Bill Nary's 15 there last year is fading.

NCAA Fires Broadside In AAU Hassle

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has fired another broadside, a plan for a new U.S. track and field federation, in its three-way skirmish with the Amateur Athletic Union.

A rough outline of the federation was drafted yesterday by the executive committee of the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association. No structure was announced, but the committee said it approved a possible outdoor federation for this summer to oppose the AAU outdoor championships.

The NCAA also is feuding with the AAU in two other sports. In addition to track and field, the NCAA has authorized creation of a new federation in gymnastics. One already has been drawn up in basketball.

TRACK CONFLICT

NCTCA president Chick Werner of Penn State said the new track federation will consider staging a championship meet on the same as the AAU meet if the AAU refuses to accept representation in the federation.

Werner said a conflicting meet could be arranged for the same date when the AAU selects athletes to represent the United States in the dual meet with Russia at Stanford University in July.

The NCAA council was authorized to take the dispute to the federal government, if necessary. Handling of the matter has been turned over to the Committee on AAU-Olympic Relations, headed by Wilbur Johns, UCLA athletic director.

The two athletic organizations have tentatively scheduled a meeting in Kansas City Feb. 4 to confer with Louis Wilke, vice president of the International Basketball Federation, as mediator in the hassle over basketball.

Billy Ray Adams To Sign With 49ers Tomorrow

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI)—Fullback Billy Ray Adams of Mississippi, who has been plagued by a streak of bad luck, hopes it will change tomorrow when he signs a contract with the San Francisco 49ers.

Adams, a third team All-American and Mississippi's leading ground gainer last fall, said he planned to sign with the National Football League club at Ole Miss.

The 210-pound fullback missed the Cotton Bowl against Texas because of a traffic injury Dec. 5. He fell asleep driving his car and hit a tree, rupturing his spleen and tearing some knee ligaments.

Adams got out of the hospital Thursday—and was in another accident Saturday afternoon. He escaped injury but his fiancee, Dorothy Bearden of Summit, Miss., was hospitalized with a back injury.

Tars Score First League Victory

College of Marin Tars basketball team felt half good at school today.

This past weekend they won and lost back-to-back Golden Valley Conference road games. Saturday night, the Tars ruined Shasta College, 72-65, and Friday in their 1962 conference debut, they blew it to Siskiyou Junior College, a rookie outfit. That nightmare was 69-54.

Wiry, five-foot-seven Charlie Bullock came off the reserve bench to pace the Tars in both games. Friday he was high man with 12 points, and he led the Marinites to victory Saturday with 20 points. The Tars' usual big guns, Lynn Livie and Randy Petrini, have been in a two-week slump. Reserve forward Steve Bryant (6-3, 170) chalked 15 counts for Marin against Shasta.

Coach Cal Riemcke praised Bill Walace and Bob Melbern for their defensive peformances Saturday.

In that game, Shasta got off to an early lead of 10-4. Bullock and Bryant began to hit and got Marin back in play. The lead exchanged sides several times until a few minutes before the halftime gun. At this point the Tars opened up offensively and tallied 12 straight before Shasta could even get its breath. The Tars protected their lead in the second half with no problems. The closest Shasta came to the Marin squad was the final score.

Riemcke said he felt his Tars would have a good chance—if they play "as a Team" like they played against Shasta—to beat American River Junior College Friday. It will be the Tars' first home conference game of the season (Redwood High, 8 p.m.). The Tars play a non-conference game against Foothill College at Drake High tomorrow at 8 p.m.

An ace on the world renowned water hole probably would rate as many superlatives as Don Larsen's World Series perfecto. It surely would provide a nice change of pace from the usual stuff written each year at this time about No. 16.

The late Porky Oliver no longer is around to be reminded about his 16 on 16 in the 1954 Crosby. Oliver learned to live with that reputation. In his last visit to the Crosby in 1959 he was a mellowed and seasoned actor as he approached the 16th.

In mock horror he gazed across the 200-yards of frothing ocean to the distant green, fringed with ice plant and gleaming bunkers. Then, he turned his eyes toward the safe, short route and the gallery silently waited his decision.

OLIVER TENTATIVELY pulled an iron from his bag, indicating he might play the safe route. The gallery, sensing he was putting on an act for its benefit, played right along with him and groaned, something no polite golf gathering would do without a cue.

That was all Oliver wanted to hear. He shoved the iron back in his bag and selected a wood. The crowd roared approval.

Oliver, draining the little scene for a final laugh, took a tee from his pocket and nervously tried to set it in the turf. The more he tried, the more he shook. Finally, he called on George Bayer for assistance and together they got the tee in an upright position. Then it took Oliver some time before he could balance a ball on it.

THE CROWD loved every minute of Oliver's last act on No. 16 and let loose a mighty cheer as Porky creamed the ball to the green on the distant cliff. The fact that he three putted for a bogie did not matter. There wasn't one person in that crowd that day who wasn't pulling for Oliver and he knew it.

Oliver will always be remembered for his 16 on 16 when stories are told about The Point's treacherous hole. Almost forgotten is the 19 Hans Merrell, a teaching pro from Mogardore, Ohio, took there in 1959. Even the memory of Bill Nary's 15 there last year is fading.

NCAA Fires Broadside In AAU Hassle

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has fired another broadside, a plan for a new U.S. track and field federation, in its three-way skirmish with the Amateur Athletic Union.

A rough outline of the federation was drafted yesterday by the executive committee of the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association. No structure was announced, but the committee said it approved a possible outdoor federation for this summer to oppose the AAU outdoor championships.

The NCAA also is feuding with the AAU in two other sports. In addition to track and field, the NCAA has authorized creation of a new federation in gymnastics. One already has been drawn up in basketball.

TRACK CONFLICT

NCTCA president Chick Werner of Penn State said the new track federation will consider staging a championship meet on the same as the AAU meet if the AAU refuses to accept representation in the federation.

Werner said a conflicting meet could be arranged for the same date when the AAU selects athletes to represent the United States in the dual meet with Russia at Stanford University in July.

The NCAA council was authorized to take the dispute to the federal government, if necessary. Handling of the matter has been turned over to the Committee on AAU-Olympic Relations, headed by Wilbur Johns, UCLA athletic director.

The two athletic organizations have tentatively scheduled a meeting in Kansas City Feb. 4 to confer with Louis Wilke, vice president of the International Basketball Federation, as mediator in the hassle over basketball.

CORINTHIAN REGATTA

Simple Strategy Pays Off For Skipper Nell

Benno Nell of the host club not only finished first with his Gentian in the Fleur Bleue Class in the Corinthian Yacht Club Regatta yesterday but also was first home for the entire fleet of 159 boats and by a good city block.

Nell's strategy was simple. When he rounded Crissy buoy he headed straight for the finish line, while the others beat up the city front to avoid the worst of the tide. But the Gentian found the tide not too much of a problem, and with a fair breeze, the scramble home was accomplished in good time and in solitary splendor.

There were a few protests because of a confusion over the course. The course sailed was course No. 6 in reverse. Instruction sheets regarding this course were somewhat ambiguous. Other than that it was a perfect day for racing. The ever prevalent north wind, while none too brisk at the start, strengthened in mid-afternoon and all boats finished strongly.

Len Delmas managed to keep all hands aboard and in consequence topped the Triton squadron with his Ryot convincingly.

Derek Bayliss has certainly found the proper groove for the spirit as he eased Chris Kiskaddon's sloop to victory in cruising club and is but 6 points behind Dr. Cross' Simba going into the final race next month.

Billy Ray Adams To Sign With 49ers Tomorrow

COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI)—Fullback Billy Ray Adams of Mississippi, who has been plagued by a streak of bad luck, hopes it will change tomorrow when he signs a contract with the San Francisco 49ers.

Adams, a third team All-American and Mississippi's leading ground gainer last fall, said he planned to sign with the National Football League club at Ole Miss.

The 210-pound fullback missed the Cotton Bowl against Texas because of a traffic injury Dec. 5. He fell asleep driving his car and hit a tree, rupturing his spleen and tearing some knee ligaments.

Adams got out of the hospital Thursday—and was in another accident Saturday afternoon. He escaped injury but his fiancee, Dorothy Bearden of Summit, Miss., was hospitalized with a back injury.

Maybe It's Nobody's Business What A Big Timer's Salary Is

CONNOLLY

It is not certain but highly probable that pretty soon an economy wave could hit the National Football League.

Why?

Well, it stands to reason that if TV thinks so highly of pro football, why shouldn't everybody else feel the same way about it.

And if everybody agrees that funnelling TV games is worth 9.3 millions of dollars, then it follows that the football owners are selling the "Booblic" their product too cheap.

Which can only follow that the dear old cash customer should hurry up and reserve his 1962 season tickets NOW so as the 49er management can get the interest on the advance sale, which, if in the neighborhood of 40,000, could be quite a tidy sum .

Each club in the National Football League is supposed to get $325,000 out of the TV melon each season that the two year contract is in force. There is no valid reason why the owners shouldn't stash that stipend away for a rainy day.

What good would it do if they decided to cut admission prices and allow more people to see the games. They haven't got a stadium big enough to accommodate the people who might attend games oftener, at a bargain price. And besides the owners will argue they've got to take care of the players who undoubtedly will want more dough now that the TV financial arrangement has been exposed.

TAKE THE CASE of R. C. Owens, alley oop end of the 49ers who wants more dough but can't seem to get it on account of the high cost of running a pro football club. The fact that TV practically pays all the overhead for any team in the league, is no reason that the owners should get big hearted and share the wealth.

There is always the possibility that the 9.3 millions TV pays could be akin to the Willie Mays salary fable. Willie is supposed to get 90,000 clackers a season but does he? Once Ted Williams went into the divorce court his salary pay dropped from $100,000 to $60,000. There is so much malarkey about the salaries paid star athletes and the pay checks of commissioners, that it is about time the "hot air" talk ceases. Congress stops everybody else they go after, so why can't they end this abuse. The only people today who know for sure what salaries Mays and the commissioners in football and baseball get are a few Internal Revenue boys. And are they laughing up their sleeves at newspaper chumps who print the palaver.

SO WATCH and wait dear ole "booblic" and see what benefits the paying cash customers or the players get out of this fabulous TV pay check.

Big business seldom lets the public know what it pays top men. And one of these days the sports minded professional club owners, whether it be baseball, football, horse racing or the minor professional vices will wake up and tell reporters it is none of their business what salary anybody gets. Or even ask them if they have nose trouble.

'SOON AS POSSIBLE'

Fullmer Challenges Archie To Title Go

NEW YORK (UPI)—An Archie Moore - Gene Fullmer light heavyweight title fight is being negotiated today because of Fullmer's publicly hurled challenge after being presented with the "Fighter of the Year" award.

During his acceptance speech after receiving the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque at the annual dinner of the Boxing Writers' Association last night, middleweight co-champion Fullmer declared: "I'd like to fight Archie as soon as possible."

Fullmer stressed: "I am recognized as champion (middleweight) in national boxing territory but not in New York. But Moore is recognized as a champion (light heavyweight) in New York. I'd like to prove to the people of New York that I'm a real champion by fighting Moore for his title, preferably in New York."

Gene, 30, pointed out that his own position of the 160-pound crown would not be at stake when he attempted to win 46-year-old Moore's portion of the 175-pound championship.

JOHNSON PRESENT

Moore is recognized as champion of his division in Europe, California and New York. Harold Johnson of Philadelphia is the National Boxing Association's ruler. Johnson was present among the overflow of more than 500 guests last night in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Moore last week given a deadline of Jan. 31 by which to sign for a defense against either Johnson of Philadelphia or top contender Doug Jones of New York.

Fullmer is under no similar pressure to defend his chunk of the middleweight title, for he made three defenses in 1961. The latest defense was on Dec. 9 when he knocked out welterweight champion Benny (Kid) Paret, who was trying to capture Gene's middleweight laurels.

Taking a leaf from the book of Paret, Fullmer now would like to step up and win at least a piece of a crown in a heavier division.

BIG FIVE BASKETBALL

Bruins Setting Hot Pace; Stanford Possible Threat

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Inspired UCLA, the envy of its Big Five foes, is setting a blistering pace in a bid for a basketball championship.

The front-running Bruins, 3-0 after three starts in league play, can coast on their laurels for a while. Most Big Five squads pause for the mid-year break and play doesn't resume until next month.

The favored USC Trojans, lodged in third place with a 3-1 mark, thumped Washington 78-64 Saturday but only after the Huskies upset the USC squad 85-67 a night earlier.

UCLA, with two previous wins over Washington, added cellar-dwelling California to its win column with a 71-60 verdict over the Bears.

Stanford, which entertains the Huskies Saturday in the only Big Five game scheduled this week, looms as the potential threat.

The Indians are largely untested in Big Five play with only their smashing 74-42 win over California in the books. But Stanford has lost only two games this season, both to nationally ranked Oregon State.

Washington, with its 1-3 mark, has an uphill battle to remain in contention.

Sharpshooting Huskie center Bill Hanson netted 32 points against the Trojans Saturday. But he didn't get much support. USC, sparked by Chris Appel's 19 points, broke the game open with a hot streak early in the second half after a close first half.

Scoring ace John Rudometkin contributed 17 points to the Trojan win.

Hapless California fell behind at the outset against UCLA to lose its fourth straight game in Big Five competition. The Bruins led 12-2 in the opening seven minutes and 36-23 at the half.

UCLA's Johnny Green topped the scoring with 24 points while Don Lauer had 13 for Cal.

Boxers Square Off In Kezar Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Kirk Barrow, Spokane's in-and-out heavyweight boxer, squares off with Leroy Green of Phoenix, Ariz., in a 10-round bout tonight at Kezar Pavilion.

In his last local appearance, Barrow was outpointed by Roger Rischer who now holds the California State heavyweight title. Green, a boxer since 1954, stopped the veteran Bobby Boyd in his last outing.

Ghilotti Quint Wins

Ghilotti Bros. whacked Marin City 50-42 last week in the San Rafael Recreation Department's "B" basketball league. High point man for the game was Glen Robinson of Ghilotti with 21.

R. C. Owens To See S.F. Saints Today

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—R. C. Owens, the San Francisco Forty Niners' wandering flanker, was scheduled to check in with the San Francisco Saints today and mull over the prospect of becoming a pro basketball player.

But owner George McKeon has emphasized that the Saints would not deal with Owens until it was positive that his connections with the Forty Niners were severed.

The six foot, three inch "Alley Ooper" from the College of Idaho did not come to terms with the Forty Niners before the late pro football season opened and played out his opcity's National League.

Since then, Owens has junketed around the country and up into Canada. The guess is that he has been checking in with various football teams although he wouldn't confirm it.

And the chances were that Owens would not be in the thinclads of the Saints when they took the floor here tonight against the Hawaii Chiefs.

"Dear Editor: I disagree . . ."

You'll never see these words in Izvestia or Pravda. Yet they're the most meaningful any newspaper can print.

They outweigh the news of astronauts. They're more important than news of international affairs—or of the Giants.

They say more about this country than all the books on freedom. They can be written by Republicans or Democrats, ditch diggers or bank presidents, old men or children . . . by anyone, on any subject, at any time.

And they are printed . . . free.

In the Independent-Journal, this forum for all shades of opinion is called, "What Our Readers Say." Some opinions challenge us for our stand on an issue; some agree with us; others offer new approaches to a problem.

More important than any view, of course, (ours included) is the right to express it. This is why your "Letter to the Editor" is a vital document.

And it is why we at the I-J regard these public columns as something more than a newspaper tradition. Through black type and white paper they build the strongest barricade around the right to free and personal expression.

It is the club's highest honor. A plaque will be given Larsen, a trainer at Guide Dogs for the Blind in Terra Linda, by Farrington Jones, chairman of the selection committee.

BIG FIVE BASKETBALL

Bruins Setting Hot Pace; Stanford Possible Threat

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Inspired UCLA, the envy of its Big Five foes, is setting a blistering pace in a bid for a basketball championship.

The front-running Bruins, 3-0 after three starts in league play, can coast on their laurels for a while. Most Big Five squads pause for the mid-year break and play doesn't resume until next month.

The favored USC Trojans, lodged in third place with a 3-1 mark, thumped Washington 78-64 Saturday but only after the Huskies upset the USC squad 85-67 a night earlier.

UCLA, with two previous wins over Washington, added cellar-dwelling California to its win column with a 71-60 verdict over the Bears.

Stanford, which entertains the Huskies Saturday in the only Big Five game scheduled this week, looms as the potential threat.

The Indians are largely untested in Big Five play with only their smashing 74-42 win over California in the books. But Stanford has lost only two games this season, both to nationally ranked Oregon State.

Washington, with its 1-3 mark, has an uphill battle to remain in contention.

Sharpshooting Huskie center Bill Hanson netted 32 points against the Trojans Saturday. But he didn't get much support. USC, sparked by Chris Appel's 19 points, broke the game open with a hot streak early in the second half after a close first half.

Scoring ace John Rudometkin contributed 17 points to the Trojan win.

Hapless California fell behind at the outset against UCLA to lose its fourth straight game in Big Five competition. The Bruins led 12-2 in the opening seven minutes and 36-23 at the half.

UCLA's Johnny Green topped the scoring with 24 points while Don Lauer had 13 for Cal.

Boxers Square Off In Kezar Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Kirk Barrow, Spokane's in-and-out heavyweight boxer, squares off with Leroy Green of Phoenix, Ariz., in a 10-round bout tonight at Kezar Pavilion.

In his last local appearance, Barrow was outpointed by Roger Rischer who now holds the California State heavyweight title. Green, a boxer since 1954, stopped the veteran Bobby Boyd in his last outing.

Ghilotti Quint Wins

Ghilotti Bros. whacked Marin City 50-42 last week in the San Rafael Recreation Department's "B" basketball league. High point man for the game was Glen Robinson of Ghilotti with 21.

R. C. Owens To See S.F. Saints Today

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—R. C. Owens, the San Francisco Forty Niners' wandering flanker, was scheduled to check in with the San Francisco Saints today and mull over the prospect of becoming a pro basketball player.

But owner George McKeon has emphasized that the Saints would not deal with Owens until it was positive that his connections with the Forty Niners were severed.

The six foot, three inch "Alley Ooper" from the College of Idaho did not come to terms with the Forty Niners before the late pro football season opened and played out his opcity's National League.

Since then, Owens has junketed around the country and up into Canada. The guess is that he has been checking in with various football teams although he wouldn't confirm it.

And the chances were that Owens would not be in the thinclads of the Saints when they took the floor here tonight against the Hawaii Chiefs.

"Dear Editor: I disagree . . ."

You'll never see these words in Izvestia or Pravda. Yet they're the most meaningful any newspaper can print.

They outweigh the news of astronauts. They're more important than news of international affairs—or of the Giants.

They say more about this country than all the books on freedom. They can be written by Republicans or Democrats, ditch diggers or bank presidents, old men or children . . . by anyone, on any subject, at any time.

And they are printed . . . free.

In the Independent-Journal, this forum for all shades of opinion is called, "What Our Readers Say." Some opinions challenge us for our stand on an issue; some agree with us; others offer new approaches to a problem.

More important than any view, of course, (ours included) is the right to express it. This is why your "Letter to the Editor" is a vital document.

And it is why we at the I-J regard these public columns as something more than a newspaper tradition. Through black type and white paper they build the strongest barricade around the right to free and personal expression.

Tam Trustees To Take Up North School Site

A recommendation on a northern Marin High School site in San Geronimo Valley will come before the Tamalpais Union High School district trustees tonight at their 8 o'clock meeting in the district office.

The area to be recommended by Supt. Chester G. Carlisle is the Ottolini Ranch, one of seven sites under construction.

Although no correspondence has been received by the Marin County Housing Authority concerning the Marin City high school site, the possible Marin City site has been included on the agenda.

Marin County Redevelopment Agency commissioners have scheduled a closed meeting Jan. 25 to discuss suing Tamalpais High School District for failure to build a high school on its Marin City site.

College Book Store Is Losing Money

College of Marin trustees last week were presented with a 1960-61 audit which showed the college book store operating at a loss.

Presenting the audit report was Harry H. Dalton, San Rafael certified public accountant.

Dalton said the gross profit for the book store is high every year but the cost of operation is too high. He advised the board to "subsidize if legally possible."

Business manager Norman Bird reported sales this semester at the store exceeded $45,000. He said the sales usually drop during the second semester. Total sales for the book store last year was $60,000, Bird said.

Dalton said the audit showed the college received $74,000 more than budgeted for last fiscal year. He said this resulted in stating too low a figure for district tax revenues. He said the district received $60,000 more than anticipated in district taxes.

Model Arraigned In Baby Death

Antoinette (Toni) Wahlen, 23-year-old model accused of murdering her newborn son at the Sausalito apartment of radio disc jockey Bob Colvig, was arraigned before Marin Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating today.

At request of her attorney, William O. Weissich, Keating granted her until Jan. 29 to enter her plea.

She was released on $20,000 bail in custody of her parents last Wednesday.

Corte Madera Council To Hear Bond Report

Corte Madera town councilmen will report their views on a $325,000 bond proposal at the council meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the town hall.

The bond proposal was submitted by Councilman Edward H. Colthurst in hopes of getting council approval to place it on the ballot for the April 10 municipal elections. The proposal calls for developing the town park and building a new police station and firehouse.

The council will consider introducing an ordinance and scheduling public hearing on the planning commission's recommendation to change definitions in the zoning ordinance referring to motels and hotels.

Dan. E. Andersen, San Rafael city manager, is to appear to urge Corte Madera's support of San Rafael in its fight against abandonment of Northwestern Pacific Railroad service.

A review of town employee salary schedules and possible appointment of an assistant civil defense director also are scheduled.

Building Permits

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The state Chamber of Commerce estimates that 330 million dollars in residential and non-residential building permits were issued in California during November.

Clean-Roads Duty Asked By Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury, in its 1960-61 annual report, pointed to the need of specifying just who should keep the county's roads clean.

It recommended the board of supervisors "set up a firm policy" on which of the county departments removes litter along the roads.

The 19 men and women of the jury reported that the county has been delegated the road cleaning job, but now a specific department must be chosen to keep Marin's roads clean.

Menlo marrieds find new way to end big debt payments

The family was growing and they did a lot of installment buying to get the needed things when needed most — and first thing you know they were almost snowed under.

Then a friend who had been in the same fix told them about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan which would give them a chance to get square and start fresh.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm — because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right and you can pay even less depending on the homeowner's loan plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest only loan — or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan. And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts.

Dramatization Is Highlight Of Club Meet

Margaret Woodall's one woman dramatization of a current Broadway musical hit presented at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley proved one of the most enthusiastically received of recent club programs.

During a brief business meeting following luncheon president Mrs. Alvin Baukol announced there will be only one meeting in February owing to the second meeting of the month falling on Washington's birthday.

The club's annual jinks will be given Feb. 8, for which the co-chairmen Mesdames Stewart Bostwick and Edmund Mahan have announced the theme will be "suppressed desires."

Co-chairmen for the luncheon were Mesdames Joseph Giblin and Samuel Bagshaw. Mrs. Roger Verran did the decorations.

CHRISTIAN DIOR millinery shows this pillbox variation of "minuit blue" paillasson with square corners and trimmed with matching silk veil.

Accent On Hats— Boaters To Bretons

From across the ocean Christian Dior millinery presents a preview of the new Parisian collection created especially with the American woman in mind.

"Sheerness" and "femininity" are emphasized by the collection which includes such shapes as the Bonaparte Breton, high and wide for the early spring suit or soft cotton dress, the Apache Beret with its small brim and the Mini-Pillbox, a departure from the cache chignon, having crown and brim in minature or resembling a small tambourine anchored at the back of the head.

And here at home the big brimmed hats are making a comeback for spring, but you may need a dictionary to know the type of brim you're wearing.

Brim widths range from the narrow Buster Brown roller to skimmer numbers wide as the hula hoop. The brims dip over the eyes, set level on the head or roll away from the forehead in breton style. The only major exception is the high, draped turban, called the "twist."

Now for an explanation of brims: The boater is a small hat with symmetrical brim, either straight or rolled. The bonnet comes with a curved brim, shorter at the back and sides than in front. The breton has a brim rolled away from the face all the way around.

The cuff brim folds against the crown. The cushion is a doublebrim with a layer of air between. The cutaway is a brim with irregularly curved edged, usually cut back at the center front to frame the face. The kettle has a brim with the edge turned sharply up or down.

A mushroom has a round, down-curving brim. The petticoat is a ruffled brim, often in two or three tiers. The portrait, or capeline, has a large gently curved or rippled brim. The profile is an irregular brim, long at the right side.

The sailor is a straight, flat brim. The scoop is curved forward, like an outside scoop for sugar.

The sombrero is a copy of the large sunshade brim from sunny climates. The visor brim extends only across the front of the hat, worn straight or folded back. And the watteau is a brim folded up at the back, often secured in place with a bow.

Some of the brims for spring act as trellises for flowers; others are shirred, veiled, ruffled, or outlined with contrasting fabric.

The brim is usually balanced with an airy looking crown. Sheer silks, chiffons, veiling and tulle are lavishly swirled and draped high in cloud-like profusion. The high, airy crowns also are teamed with more tailored numbers shaped from smooth or rough-textured straws or synthetic straws.

A 'POKE BONNET' of navy pari draped with navy silk organza soft bow at the back center is designed for the American woman by Dior.

Folding, Labeling Patterns Saves Lot Of Time, Patience

By EUNICE FARMER

Winner of this week's tailor trix award is Mrs. Eunice Walsh, St. Louis, Mo., who sends this suggestion.

"After cutting my garment, I re-fold each piece of the pattern to a uniform size with the name of each section on top, such as front, back, collar, etc. When I have to go back to refer to any piece of the pattern, which we all have to do frequently, it saves a lot of time and patience."

Dear Readers:

Once again I am going to explain the directional cutting of fabric with nap. Because of the volume of mail received about this one particular question, I hope you will all save this for easy reference.

Velvet, velveteen and corduroy are fabrics with "nap" or pile, and all of the pieces of your garment must be cut in the same direction. These fabrics should be cut with the "nap" running up. If you hold the fabric up to yourself, it should feel "rough" as you run your hand from your shoulder down to your waist.

Once you have determined the correct direction, place arrows on the wrong side of the fabric near the selvage with marking chalk. After the larger pieces of your garment have been cut, you will still know the correct way to cut any additional pieces because of the directional arrows.

"I made my daughter a formal recently and although we used the tiny spaghetti straps at the shoulders, the bodice didn't stay up nice and smooth. We lined the bodice and nothing seemed to help." Mrs. M. E. L.

Dear Mrs. M.E.L.:

There is a very simple solution to this problem. Your fabric was probably light weight and, even though it was lined, it would still not have enough "body" to stand up without wrinkling.

Sew a strip of featherboning on each side seam. This is hand whipped to the seam on the wrong side of the bodice. Be sure to cut the boning back from the ends and bring the fabric covering over the ends to avoid the rough edges cutting into you. It may also be necessary to add the featherboning to the darts at the back of the bodice, but usually the side seams will take care of it beautifully.

"Is it possible to add a "gusset" to a dress that is cus with raglan sleeves? The dress seems to pull so much that whenever I raise my arms I am afraid it will tear at the underarm. Please tell me where to cut the dress and how large to make the gusset. Many thanks for the answers to the many questions we home sewers have, I feel you are sitting beside me when I am sewing." Mrs. R. F.

Dear Mrs. R. F.:

Yes, it is possible to add a gusset when there is none. At the highest point of the underarm curve of the bodice front and back, make a diagonal slash about 4" long. Before cutting to the end of the slash, place a square of firm fabric or press on tap on the wrong side. Now with a small machine stitch, re-inforce the point.

For a gusset this size, you will need a square of fabric about 5½". After gusset has been applied, top-stitch close to the seam line, about 1" each side of the slashed area. Since this is only held together by a mere thread, the top stitching will keep it from pulling out.

Your sewing glossary: Featherboning: This is a firm strip of plastic which is covered with fabric. It is used for support in strapless gowns, bathing suits, cummerbunds, etc.

We would welcome any letters from you telling us your little sewing problems. Also, please tell me what segment of sewing you would like discussed in detail for future leaflets. Send your letters to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

CHRISTIAN DIOR millinery shows this pillbox variation of "minuit blue" paillasson with square corners and trimmed with matching silk veil.

Accent On Hats— Boaters To Bretons

From across the ocean Christian Dior millinery presents a preview of the new Parisian collection created especially with the American woman in mind.

"Sheerness" and "femininity" are emphasized by the collection which includes such shapes as the Bonaparte Breton, high and wide for the early spring suit or soft cotton dress, the Apache Beret with its small brim and the Mini-Pillbox, a departure from the cache chignon, having crown and brim in minature or resembling a small tambourine anchored at the back of the head.

And here at home the big brimmed hats are making a comeback for spring, but you may need a dictionary to know the type of brim you're wearing.

Brim widths range from the narrow Buster Brown roller to skimmer numbers wide as the hula hoop. The brims dip over the eyes, set level on the head or roll away from the forehead in breton style. The only major exception is the high, draped turban, called the "twist."

Now for an explanation of brims: The boater is a small hat with symmetrical brim, either straight or rolled. The bonnet comes with a curved brim, shorter at the back and sides than in front. The breton has a brim rolled away from the face all the way around.

The cuff brim folds against the crown. The cushion is a doublebrim with a layer of air between. The cutaway is a brim with irregularly curved edged, usually cut back at the center front to frame the face. The kettle has a brim with the edge turned sharply up or down.

A mushroom has a round, down-curving brim. The petticoat is a ruffled brim, often in two or three tiers. The portrait, or capeline, has a large gently curved or rippled brim. The profile is an irregular brim, long at the right side.

The sailor is a straight, flat brim. The scoop is curved forward, like an outside scoop for sugar.

The sombrero is a copy of the large sunshade brim from sunny climates. The visor brim extends only across the front of the hat, worn straight or folded back. And the watteau is a brim folded up at the back, often secured in place with a bow.

Some of the brims for spring act as trellises for flowers; others are shirred, veiled, ruffled, or outlined with contrasting fabric.

The brim is usually balanced with an airy looking crown. Sheer silks, chiffons, veiling and tulle are lavishly swirled and draped high in cloud-like profusion. The high, airy crowns also are teamed with more tailored numbers shaped from smooth or rough-textured straws or synthetic straws.

A 'POKE BONNET' of navy pari draped with navy silk organza soft bow at the back center is designed for the American woman by Dior.

Folding, Labeling Patterns Saves Lot Of Time, Patience

By EUNICE FARMER

Winner of this week's tailor trix award is Mrs. Eunice Walsh, St. Louis, Mo., who sends this suggestion.

"After cutting my garment, I re-fold each piece of the pattern to a uniform size with the name of each section on top, such as front, back, collar, etc. When I have to go back to refer to any piece of the pattern, which we all have to do frequently, it saves a lot of time and patience."

Dear Readers:

Once again I am going to explain the directional cutting of fabric with nap. Because of the volume of mail received about this one particular question, I hope you will all save this for easy reference.

Velvet, velveteen and corduroy are fabrics with "nap" or pile, and all of the pieces of your garment must be cut in the same direction. These fabrics should be cut with the "nap" running up. If you hold the fabric up to yourself, it should feel "rough" as you run your hand from your shoulder down to your waist.

Once you have determined the correct direction, place arrows on the wrong side of the fabric near the selvage with marking chalk. After the larger pieces of your garment have been cut, you will still know the correct way to cut any additional pieces because of the directional arrows.

"I made my daughter a formal recently and although we used the tiny spaghetti straps at the shoulders, the bodice didn't stay up nice and smooth. We lined the bodice and nothing seemed to help." Mrs. M. E. L.

Dear Mrs. M.E.L.:

There is a very simple solution to this problem. Your fabric was probably light weight and, even though it was lined, it would still not have enough "body" to stand up without wrinkling.

Sew a strip of featherboning on each side seam. This is hand whipped to the seam on the wrong side of the bodice. Be sure to cut the boning back from the ends and bring the fabric covering over the ends to avoid the rough edges cutting into you. It may also be necessary to add the featherboning to the darts at the back of the bodice, but usually the side seams will take care of it beautifully.

"Is it possible to add a "gusset" to a dress that is cus with raglan sleeves? The dress seems to pull so much that whenever I raise my arms I am afraid it will tear at the underarm. Please tell me where to cut the dress and how large to make the gusset. Many thanks for the answers to the many questions we home sewers have, I feel you are sitting beside me when I am sewing." Mrs. R. F.

Dear Mrs. R. F.:

Yes, it is possible to add a gusset when there is none. At the highest point of the underarm curve of the bodice front and back, make a diagonal slash about 4" long. Before cutting to the end of the slash, place a square of firm fabric or press on tap on the wrong side. Now with a small machine stitch, re-inforce the point.

For a gusset this size, you will need a square of fabric about 5½". After gusset has been applied, top-stitch close to the seam line, about 1" each side of the slashed area. Since this is only held together by a mere thread, the top stitching will keep it from pulling out.

Your sewing glossary: Featherboning: This is a firm strip of plastic which is covered with fabric. It is used for support in strapless gowns, bathing suits, cummerbunds, etc.

We would welcome any letters from you telling us your little sewing problems. Also, please tell me what segment of sewing you would like discussed in detail for future leaflets. Send your letters to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept.

Johnson-Sherseth Nuptials Yesterday

Carol Lee Sherseth and Robert L. Johnson, both of Mill Valley, exchanged nuptial vows yesterday afternoon at the Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gerald Garlid.

Carol, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll K. Sherseth of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace with full skirt and short train.

Jill Peterson of Novato, the maid of honor, was gowned in a gold slipper satin sheath with overskirt, and the bridesmaids wore dresses of emerald green slipper satin. They were the bride's sisters, Judy and Wendy Sherseth, the bridegroom's niece, Peggy Newland, and Dianne Hegg, all of Mill Valley.

The flower girl was the bride's sister, Terri Sherseth.

Best man was Eric Groneman of Mill Valley, and ushers were the bridegroom's brother, James Johnson, Robert Grunigan, and Rich Whittington, all of Mill Valley.

After a reception at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse the couple left for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe. On their return they will live in Corte Madera.

Both young people are graduates of Tamalpais High School. The bridegroom, who is the son of Christopher Johnson and the late Mrs. Johnson of Mill Valley, is the brother of Herbert Johnson of Petaluma and Mrs. William Newland and Katharine Johnson, both of Mill Valley. Robert is employed by the Fiberglass Insulation Company in San Francisco.

Versatile Sponge

A new multi-purpose synthetic sponge is said to be so versatile that it can be used for such diverse chores as washing fine china, scrubbing barbecue equipment and brightening white walls. It creates dense lather when dunked in suds and won't scratch hands or household items, the manufacturer reports.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

Counseling And Diversified Schools Slowing Drop-Outs

Have you heard of "drop-outs"? They're an old story to guidance counselors. A drop-out is a boy or girl who quits school before he graduates. People are getting concerned over drop-outs now. It's high time.

How many quit school? The number varies from place to place. The national average is about one-third of the pupils who enter high school. In some areas it is as large as one-half —in some, much smaller.

What happens to them? Most of them bum around. Many get into serious trouble. Idle hands are the devil's workshop, especially idle teen-agers' hands. There wouldn't be much of a problem if they could get jobs, but most of them can't. Many are too young for legal employment. Many are minority-race slum kids no one will hire.

What can be done? Several things. I'm director of guidance for a large school system. I've helped experiment with ways to keep kids in school, and to prevent delinquency. The most valuable single thing we do is to have psychologists and caseworkers study and counsel with boys and girls doing poorly in their classes. We help them before it is too late. Then they don't quit.

Our second big improvement has been to diversify our high schools. Even the anti-intellectual roughnecks can learn, and like it. Realistic job preparation, for example — realistic academic and mechanical skills, too. We have three special high schools for teenagers who otherwise might drop out. We call them "adjustment schools." They're a great improvement over most schools for these youngsters.

The results? Wonderful. Our drop-out rate is less than half the national average, and is still going down. Our delinquency rate is one of the lowest in the country. Drop-outs are worth saving, you know.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it necessarily bad when a teen-ager quits school?"
B.G.

(A) No, not necessarily. If a school is unable to provide anything appropriate for kids with learning problems, and if they can get worthwhile jobs, they may be better off for having quit. But those are two large "ifs."

Sabella's March Of Dimes Dinner Planned Jan. 29

A host of women throughout Marin County have "turned to" for the annual dinner for the Marin March of Dimes scheduled at Sabella's Restaurant Jan. 29.

Mrs. Paul Hartman Jr. of San Rafael is chairman of the 10th annual dinner, with all proceeds going to the drive against polio, arthritis and birth defects.

Heading various phases of the dinner are Mrs. Peter Fitz-Hugh of Ross, in charge of games and awards; Miss Valerie Ansel, San Anselmo, reservations; and Mesdames William Cassidy Jr., Kentfield; John Elliott, San Anselmo; John Siemens, Kentfield Thomas F. Keating, San Rafael, and Ruth Lederman, Kent Woodlands, working on invitations.

For the past 10 years the Sabella family has sponsored this March of Dimes event.

More than 300 people are expected to attend the dinner, according to Mrs. Hartman, and one of the features of the evening will be special entertainment offered by some of the performers appearing in the Bay Area.

Marin Women

Johnson-Sherseth Nuptials Yesterday

Carol Lee Sherseth and Robert L. Johnson, both of Mill Valley, exchanged nuptial vows yesterday afternoon at the Marin Lutheran Church in Corte Madera.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gerald Garlid.

Carol, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll K. Sherseth of Mill Valley, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white peau de soie and Chantilly lace with full skirt and short train.

Jill Peterson of Novato, the maid of honor, was gowned in a gold slipper satin sheath with overskirt, and the bridesmaids wore dresses of emerald green slipper satin. They were the bride's sisters, Judy and Wendy Sherseth, the bridegroom's niece, Peggy Newland, and Dianne Hegg, all of Mill Valley.

The flower girl was the bride's sister, Terri Sherseth.

Best man was Eric Groneman of Mill Valley, and ushers were the bridegroom's brother, James Johnson, Robert Grunigan, and Rich Whittington, all of Mill Valley.

After a reception at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse the couple left for a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe. On their return they will live in Corte Madera.

Both young people are graduates of Tamalpais High School. The bridegroom, who is the son of Christopher Johnson and the late Mrs. Johnson of Mill Valley, is the brother of Herbert Johnson of Petaluma and Mrs. William Newland and Katharine Johnson, both of Mill Valley. Robert is employed by the Fiberglass Insulation Company in San Francisco.

Novato P-TA Units To Hear Director Of Science Museum

Director of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum, Murray Dailey of San Rafael will be guest speaker when Marion School Parent-Teacher Association plays host to the P-TA chapters of the Novato Unified School District at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Mr. Dailey will present a movie "Little Bit of Marin," a film sequence of animals found in Marin County. In addition to the movie, Mr. Dailey will speak on conservation.

Versatile Sponge

A new multi-purpose synthetic sponge is said to be so versatile that it can be used for such diverse chores as washing fine china, scrubbing barbecue equipment and brightening white walls. It creates dense lather when dunked in suds and won't scratch hands or household items, the manufacturer reports.

Food Opener

The top of a new food can comes off in a wink. Just pull a simple tab on the can's top to reveal contents. The manufacturer reports the new opening technique eliminates jagged edges. The top can be replaced for refrigerator storage.

Counseling And Diversified Schools Slowing Drop-Outs

Have you heard of "drop-outs"? They're an old story to guidance counselors. A drop-out is a boy or girl who quits school before he graduates. People are getting concerned over drop-outs now. It's high time.

How many quit school? The number varies from place to place. The national average is about one-third of the pupils who enter high school. In some areas it is as large as one-half —in some, much smaller.

What happens to them? Most of them bum around. Many get into serious trouble. Idle hands are the devil's workshop, especially idle teen-agers' hands. There wouldn't be much of a problem if they could get jobs, but most of them can't. Many are too young for legal employment. Many are minority-race slum kids no one will hire.

What can be done? Several things. I'm director of guidance for a large school system. I've helped experiment with ways to keep kids in school, and to prevent delinquency. The most valuable single thing we do is to have psychologists and caseworkers study and counsel with boys and girls doing poorly in their classes. We help them before it is too late. Then they don't quit.

Our second big improvement has been to diversify our high schools. Even the anti-intellectual roughnecks can learn, and like it. Realistic job preparation, for example — realistic academic and mechanical skills, too. We have three special high schools for teenagers who otherwise might drop out. We call them "adjustment schools." They're a great improvement over most schools for these youngsters.

The results? Wonderful. Our drop-out rate is less than half the national average, and is still going down. Our delinquency rate is one of the lowest in the country. Drop-outs are worth saving, you know.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Is it necessarily bad when a teen-ager quits school?" B.G.

(A) No, not necessarily. If a school is unable to provide anything appropriate for kids with learning problems, and if they can get worthwhile jobs, they may be better off for having quit. But those are two large "ifs."

New Courses Set To Help Guide Clothes Shopper

If when you are shopping you wish you were more sure of the right line, color and design in clothing a four week course opening in San Rafael tomorrow may help.

"Dressing by Design" will be given Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to noon for four weeks at the First Presbyterian Church, San Rafael. Mrs. Elizabeth Wiley, Sonoma County home advisor, is the instructor. Meeting dates are Jan. 16, 23, 20 and Feb. 6.

Stretchwear Appears

Stretch fabrics, no longer confined to pants, now appear in active playwear, even casual dresses. Stretch denim is shown in bright colors as well as the familiar navy and faded blue, styled with a Western look and used for hip-lsung pants.

Pencil Thin Lipstick

The newest lipstick is a slim version of the ordinary swivel stick. The pencil-like cosmetic enables the user to outline lips with a point and then shade in the lips with a few quick strokes.

Opening lead — ◇ K

South was an expert of international fame. To hear him tell it, people would rather look at his picture than Marilyn Monroe's. When he opens his mouth to speak, let no dog bark.

Mebbe so. All I know is that South ruffed the second diamond when this hand came along, drew three rounds of trumps and led a club.

East won with the queen of clubs and led another diamond, forcing South to ruff with his next-to-last trump.

South led another club, and East caught himself just in time. Instead of winning the trick he let dummy's king of clubs hold.

NO WAY OUT: There was no way out of the dummy. To reach his own hand, South had to use up his last trump. Since the clubs were not yet set up, South wasn't any better off in his own hand than in the dummy. He managed to get six trump tricks, one spade and one club.

While you're rooting about for some old cabbage to fling at South for this puerile performance, toss an orchid to East for refusing the second club trick.

Tell the truth, now: you'd have made four hearts if you'd been South. Of course you would; it's as easy as falling downstairs.

Ruff the second diamond and lead clubs immediately. That's right. Don't bother to draw the trumps first. Begin by setting up the clubs.

If any wiseacre refuses a club trick, you won't be stuck in dummy. You'll get back to your hand with a trump. After all, that's just why you leave the trumps there in dummy.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner deals and bids one spade. The next player doubles, and you hold:

♠ K 10 5 2
♥ 7 3
♦ Q 10 9 4
♣ A Q 5

What do you say?

Answer: Redouble. This is the clearest way to show that the hand belongs to your side. You expect to bid three spades at your next turn to show your full strength and fine support.

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Experts Sometimes Fumble Just Like Everybody Else

When the Day of Judgement comes bridge columnists will have a lot to answer for. We have somehow given the impression that bridge experts never make mistakes. If the imps and fiends will stop laughing and come to order, we can start on a week of telling the truth.

Opening lead — ◇ K

South was an expert of international fame. To hear him tell it, people would rather look at his picture than Marilyn Monroe's. When he opens his mouth to speak, let no dog bark.

Mebbe so. All I know is that South ruffed the second diamond when this hand came along, drew three rounds of trumps and led a club.

East won with the queen of clubs and led another diamond, forcing South to ruff with his next-to-last trump.

South led another club, and East caught himself just in time. Instead of winning the trick he let dummy's king of clubs hold.

NO WAY OUT: There was no way out of the dummy. To reach his own hand, South had to use up his last trump. Since the clubs were not yet set up, South wasn't any better off in his own hand than in the dummy. He managed to get six trump tricks, one spade and one club.

While you're rooting about for some old cabbage to fling at South for this puerile performance, toss an orchid to East for refusing the second club trick.

Tell the truth, now: you'd have made four hearts if you'd been South. Of course you would; it's as easy as falling downstairs.

Ruff the second diamond and lead clubs immediately. That's right. Don't bother to draw the trumps first. Begin by setting up the clubs.

If any wiseacre refuses a club trick, you won't be stuck in dummy. You'll get back to your hand with a trump. After all, that's just why you leave the trumps there in dummy.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner deals and bids one spade. The next player doubles, and you hold:

♠ K 10 5 2
♥ 7 3
♦ Q 10 9 4
● A Q 5

What do you say?

Answer: Redouble. This is the clearest way to show that the hand belongs to your side. You expect to bid three spades at your next turn to show your full strength and fine support.

Unmoveables Entertaining

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Couples at the Marshall University fraternity dance knew there were sheriff's deputies in the crowd.

And they knew the deputies weren't there to watch the dancers.

Because the Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance was the fourth public appearance of The Unmoveables, an orchestra made up of inmates of the county jail.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Columns Are For You If You Made $400, More

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

If your income was $400 or more in 1961 then these columns were written for you.

If your income was from self-employment and was $400 or more you are required to file a federal income tax return and report and pay your self-employment tax even though you do not owe income tax.

P. J. WIKEL

You must file a federal income tax return for 1961 if you are under 65 and had gross income of $600 or more, or over 65 and had gross income of $1,200 or more.

If you meet the above conditions, then you must file a federal income tax return regardless of whether you owe tax or not, and it does not matter whether you are a man, woman or child; you are required to file a return before Monday, April 16, 1962.

It may be that you had income of less than $400 or $1,200 and income tax was withheld from your paychecks. In this case, you should file a tax return, and Uncle Sam will refund the withheld tax.

You are required to file a California income tax return if you are : Single and have a net income of $1,500 or over; or married and have a net income of $3,000 or over; or, if in either case your gross income is $5,000 or over.

The law imposes severe penalties for failing to make a return, or for making a false or fraudulent return, or for failing to file a return on time.

If you are required to file, it is better to file the return even though no tax may be due. Then you are sure.

LEARNING TO SPEAK TO KOREAN DOG

While Daniel and Theodora Schneider of Detroit practice translating English into Korean, Yang Yang, a dog who was born in Korea, waits patiently. The dog was shipped to the Schneider by a family friend who explained that the dog understands only Korean. The friend sent along a language card. The family says "come here" in English makes no sense but that "idy wha ba ba" (Korean) on a card does. (AP Wirephoto)

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Home Building In California Rose by 10 Per Cent During 1961

Home building in California was up about 10 per cent last year, says F. W. Dodge Corp., marketing specialists.

The California State Chamber of Commerce estimates it will jump another 5 per cent in 1962.

The California Bankers Association, more conservative, looks for about 4 per cent and notes that "the trend appears to be toward tighter money and higher interest rates."

There is no doubt that more money is being sought to finance home construction. The new 4.6 per cent rate being paid to savings and loan depositors is hoped to "sweeten the pot."

AND SPEAKING of savings and loan, M. L. Gianetti Jr., 232 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael has joined the staff of the newly established Tamalpais Savings and Loan Association in Corte Madera as appraiser. A native Marinite, Gianetti was previously associated with the Berkeley Savings and Loan and with the Marin County Assessor's office. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School and College of Marin.

WORD FROM Mrs. Charlotte Savidge, manager of Pacific Plan's office in San Rafael is that the 11 Bay Area branches of this firm showed a 22 per cent increase in business last year. The local office was just opened a few months ago so there are no Marin figures for comparative purposes.

According to Russell Collier, general manager of the loan brokerage institution, the average investor has a stake of $7,132 in the company, but investments run all the way from $1,000 to $100,000.

Much of the firm's volume was attributed to one simple stroke — advertising in the newspaper.

STATE FARM Mutual Insurance that has offices in San Anselmo states that male drivers under 25 get a break on auto insurance under a "good student" plan being offered by the company.

The plan offers 20 per cent discount to qualified, full-time high school and college single male students maintaining better than average grades. Premise is that good students spend more time studying than driving; are less exposed to accidents. Estimated by-product is that it will help parents to make a stronger case in arguments over use of the family car.

GOLDEN GATE SHIPPING DIP. A 2 per cent decline in 1961 ship traffic was announced by the Marine Exchange of the Bay Region, with 9,866 cargo and passenger ship movements reported. The year before, 10,105 were counted. Traffic for 1961 still averaged one vessel through the Gate, going or coming, every 53 minutes.

Bay and river ports also handled less traffic; decreases were shown in coastal and intercoastal ship activity.

Outside of lumber schooners, the only increase was shown by foreign flag shipping, 3 per cent higher and amounting to 43 per cent of Bay Area water traffic. Twenty-seven foreign countries were represented. The first Brazilian commercial ship in six years passed through the Gate in 1961.

First and second places were taken by the Japanese and Norwegians, followed by German, British, Liberian and Swedish vessels. Gains were shown among the Germans, Norwegians and Swedish.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands —Holland, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

Scholarships For Musicians Told

The Pacific Musical Society will give two $500 scholarships and one $250 award in its annual scholarship competition on April 14 at the Community Music Center in San Francisco, director Robert Vetlesen has announced.

There will be a $500 award for an instrumentalist between 14 and 20, a $500 award for a vocalist between 14 and 21, a $250 award for a vocalist in the same age group, and two $100 awards for instrumentalists under 14.

Last year, one of the $500 awards was won by Wendy Eisler, then of Mill Valley and now of Greenbrae, for the study of the flute.

Information may be obtained from Vetlesen at 2150 Lyon Street, San Francisco 15.

Petris To Speak On Narcotics Law

Assemblyman Nicholas C. Petris of Alameda County will speak on "New Narcotics Legislation" at a meeting of the Mill Valley Democratic Club at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Gallery, 17 Madrona Avenue, Mill Valley.

Petris is vice chairman of the Assembly's committee on government organization.

The meeting will be open to the public and coffee will be served, said Clarice Weisbach, club spokesman.

Mother of three finds way out of money meat-chopper

She was married, had three children, a hard working husband and a home. A family this size needs a lot of things and she bought them — most of them on time, or charge accounts — and then everything seemed to come due at once.

She called the number at the bottom of this ad and we were happy to arrange a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. She paid bills, installments, everything, yet cutting her monthly payment by more than half.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm — because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right and you can pay even less depending on the homeowner's loan plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest only loan — or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan. And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts. Phone GL 6-4250

LEARNING TO SPEAK TO KOREAN DOG

While Daniel and Theodora Schneider of Detroit practice translating English into Korean, Yang Yang, a dog who was born in Korea, waits patiently. The dog was shipped to the Schneider by a family friend who explained that the dog understands only Korean. The friend sent along a language card. The family says "come here" in English makes no sense but that "idy wha ba ba" (Korean) on a card does. (AP Wirephoto)

Unmoveables Entertaining

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Couples at the Marshall University fraternity dance knew there were sheriff's deputies in the crowd.

And they knew the deputies weren't there to watch the dancers.

Because the Sigma Alpha Epsilon dance was the fourth public appearance of The Unmoveables, an orchestra made up of inmates of the county jail.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Columns Are For You If You Made $400, More

By PETER J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

If your income was $400 or more in 1961 then these columns were written for you.

If your income was from self-employment and was $400 or more you are required to file a federal income tax return and report and pay your self-employment tax even though you do not owe income tax.

P. J. WIKEL

You must file a federal income tax return for 1961 if you are under 65 and had gross income of $600 or more, or over 65 and had gross income of $1,200 or more.

If you meet the above conditions, then you must file a federal income tax return regardless of whether you owe tax or not, and it does not matter whether you are a man, woman or child; you are required to file a return before Monday, April 16, 1962.

It may be that you had income of less than $400 or $1,200 and income tax was withheld from your paychecks. In this case, you should file a tax return, and Uncle Sam will refund the withheld tax.

You are required to file a California income tax return if you are : Single and have a net income of $1,500 or over; or married and have a net income of $3,000 or over; or, if in either case your gross income is $5,000 or over.

The law imposes severe penalties for failing to make a return, or for making a false or fraudulent return, or for failing to file a return on time.

If you are required to file, it is better to file the return even though no tax may be due. Then you are sure.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

Home Building In California Rose by 10 Per Cent During 1961

Home building in California was up about 10 per cent last year, says F. W. Dodge Corp., marketing specialists.

The California State Chamber of Commerce estimates it will jump another 5 per cent in 1962.

The California Bankers Association, more conservative, looks for about 4 per cent and notes that "the trend appears to be toward tighter money and higher interest rates."

There is no doubt that more money is being sought to finance home construction. The new 4.6 per cent rate being paid to savings and loan depositors is hoped to "sweeten the pot."

AND SPEAKING of savings and loan, M. L. Gianetti Jr., 232 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael has joined the staff of the newly established Tamalpais Savings and Loan Association in Corte Madera as appraiser. A native Marinite, Gianetti was previously associated with the Berkeley Savings and Loan and with the Marin County Assessor's office. He is a graduate of San Rafael High School and College of Marin.

WORD FROM Mrs. Charlotte Savidge, manager of Pacific Plan's office in San Rafael is that the 11 Bay Area branches of this firm showed a 22 per cent increase in business last year. The local office was just opened a few months ago so there are no Marin figures for comparative purposes.

According to Russell Collier, general manager of the loan brokerage institution, the average investor has a stake of $7,132 in the company, but investments run all the way from $1,000 to $100,000.

Much of the firm's volume was attributed to one simple stroke — advertising in the newspaper.

STATE FARM Mutual Insurance that has offices in San Anselmo states that male drivers under 25 get a break on auto insurance under a "good student" plan being offered by the company.

The plan offers 20 per cent discount to qualified, full-time high school and college single male students maintaining better than average grades. Premise is that good students spend more time studying than driving; are less exposed to accidents. Estimated by-product is that it will help parents to make a stronger case in arguments over use of the family car.

GOLDEN GATE SHIPPING DIP. A 2 per cent decline in 1961 ship traffic was announced by the Marine Exchange of the Bay Region, with 9,866 cargo and passenger ship movements reported. The year before, 10,105 were counted. Traffic for 1961 still averaged one vessel through the Gate, going or coming, every 53 minutes.

Bay and river ports also handled less traffic; decreases were shown in coastal and intercoastal ship activity.

Outside of lumber schooners, the only increase was shown by foreign flag shipping, 3 per cent higher and amounting to 43 per cent of Bay Area water traffic. Twenty-seven foreign countries were represented. The first Brazilian commercial ship in six years passed through the Gate in 1961.

First and second places were taken by the Japanese and Norwegians, followed by German, British, Liberian and Swedish vessels. Gains were shown among the Germans, Norwegians and Swedish.

Seven flags have flown over St. Croix in the Virgin Islands —Holland, England, Spain, France, the Knights of Malta, Denmark and the United States.

Scholarships For Musicians Told

The Pacific Musical Society will give two $500 scholarships and one $250 award in its annual scholarship competition on April 14 at the Community Music Center in San Francisco, director Robert Vetlesen has announced.

There will be a $500 award for an instrumentalist between 14 and 20, a $500 award for a vocalist between 14 and 21, a $250 award for a vocalist in the same age group, and two $100 awards for instrumentalists under 14.

Last year, one of the $500 awards was won by Wendy Eisler, then of Mill Valley and now of Greenbrae, for the study of the flute.

Information may be obtained from Vetlesen at 2150 Lyon Street, San Francisco 15.

Mother of three finds way out of money meat-chopper

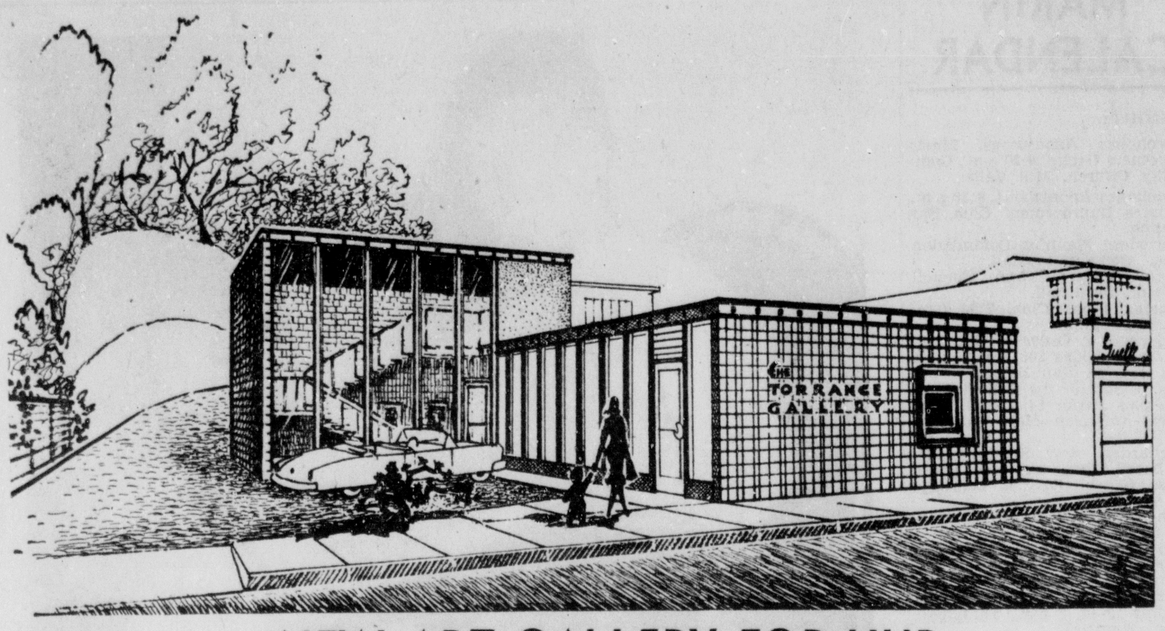
She was married, had three children, a hard working husband and a home. A family this size needs a lot of things and she bought them — most of them on time, or charge accounts — and then everything seemed to come due at once.

She called the number at the bottom of this ad and we were happy to arrange a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. She paid bills, installments, everything, yet cutting her monthly payment by more than half.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm — because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right and you can pay even less depending on the homeowner's loan plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest only loan — or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan. And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts. Phone GL 6-4250



NEW ART GALLERY FOR HUB

This is an architect's version of the new Torrance Gallery planned for opening on March 1 at 128 Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo. The concrete block building, which will house a frame shop, art goods sales area and gallery, was designed by Marinwood architect Walt van Gelder. To be constructed at a cost of $27,500 by San Rafael builders H. S. Meinberger and Sons, the gallery will replace the present Torrance Gallery which has operated for 10 years at 341 San Anselmo Avenue.

Cerebral Palsy Group March Tonight For Annual Collection

Hundreds of volunteers will knock at the doors of their neighbors tonight in the annual "53-Minute March" conducted by United Cerebral Palsy of Marin.

The door-to-door "march" will start in most areas of the county at 7 p.m. In some sections, including West Marin, mail solicitation is being used, according to Ben J. Barton of Terra Linda, campaign chairman.

Residents who are not reached by the marchers may send their donations to United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, Post Office Box 923, San Rafael.

No definite goal was announced for the drive. In the 1961 campaign, $7,900 was raised. Fund-raising events and special gifts during the year brought the 1961 total to nearly $9,000.

Barton said that the Marin chapter of United Cerebral Palsy is one of 341 throughout the country which work for the benefit of their local victims and contribute to the national research program.

USPM's projects include assistance with speech therapy and filming for medical records at Marindale School for handicapped children, an equipment pool for Marindale families, contribution to the summer recreation program conducted by the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, camperships, a swimming program, and college scholarships.

Theme of the 1962 march is "If She Lived Next Door, Would You Help?" Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos is honorary chairman.

REA Board Plans To Capture Some Of World's Fair Dollars

Primed to capitalize on what promises to be a record travel year, executive board members of the Redwood Empire Assn. will meet Friday in Ignacio.

Final plans for a hard-hitting campaign of publicity and advertising, aimed at captivating the touring public, will be adopted when the REA's top echelon meets with President Jack Craemer at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Leaders of the nine-county association predict 1962 will set new records in tourism from San Francisco north to Grants Pass, due in part to the Seattle World's Fair, which opens April 21.

William A. Hynes, chairman of REA's publicity-and-advertising committee, will submit his group's recommendations, reportedly the most far-reaching in the development association's 40-year history.

Luncheon on Friday will be a county-wide affair jointly sponsored by REA and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. Some 150 local leaders will hear Craemer, Hynes and General Manager Carney J. Campion speak on "Travel Dollars Are Good Dollars."

'Adopted' School Is Given $95

Sir Francis Drake High School students made a Christmas contribution of $95.67 to Drake's "adopted" school in Mexico.

The money amounts to 765 pesos, and will be used for building materials for the school, which will start its school year Feb. 1.

Another money raising project carried out by Drake's school aid committee was the recent sale of student directories, containing the names and addresses of all Drake students. Glenn Reznor, Spanish teacher, is faculty adviser to the committee.

Christmas Seal Total: $29,584

A total of $29,584 was received from the annual Christmas Seal Campaign in Marin County, Dr. Richard S. Hahn, chairman of the 1961 campaign of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., has announced.

Expressing thanks to all who contributed, he said, "It is gratifying to receive this fine response, indicating a wide interest in and approval of the community program of tuberculosis prevention and control."

The funds will be used during fiscal 1962-63 to combat TB and other respiratory diseases.

LET'S STOP BEATING OUR BREASTS

... the time has come to stop crying about the fact that America's youth is growing soft.

You can do something about it!

At your very next P.T.A. meeting, urge the adoption of a vigorous program for physical development in your children's school.

Such a program is already proving its worth in many schools throughout the country. It's easy to administer—it costs your school very little.

Act!

"Too much installment plan— and then the lid blew off"

One family grew so fast that they found themselves buying everything on the installment plan. Then add a few pressing bills, an insurance premium and a hospital bill — and look out for the big blow.

They found from an ad like this that they could get a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan because they own their home, and could lump everything they owe, pay 'em off and start fresh.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm—because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

NEW ART GALLERY FOR HUB

This is an architect's version of the new Torrance Gallery planned for opening on March 1 at 128 Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo. The concrete block building, which will house a frame shop, art goods sales area and gallery, was designed by Marinwood architect Walt van Gelder. To be constructed at a cost of $27,500 by San Rafael builders H. S. Meinberger and Sons, the gallery will replace the present Torrance Gallery which has operated for 10 years at 341 San Anselmo Avenue.

Cerebral Palsy Group March Tonight For Annual Collection

Hundreds of volunteers will knock at the doors of their neighbors tonight in the annual "53-Minute March" conducted by United Cerebral Palsy of Marin.

The door-to-door "march" will start in most areas of the county at 7 p.m. In some sections, including West Marin, mail solicitation is being used, according to Ben J. Barton of Terra Linda, campaign chairman.

Residents who are not reached by the marchers may send their donations to United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, Post Office Box 923, San Rafael.

No definite goal was announced for the drive. In the 1961 campaign, $7,900 was raised. Fund-raising events and special gifts during the year brought the 1961 total to nearly $9,000.

Barton said that the Marin chapter of United Cerebral Palsy is one of 341 throughout the country which work for the benefit of their local victims and contribute to the national research program.

USPM's projects include assistance with speech therapy and filming for medical records at Marindale School for handicapped children, an equipment pool for Marindale families, contribution to the summer recreation program conducted by the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, camperships, a swimming program, and college scholarships.

Theme of the 1962 march is "If She Lived Next Door, Would You Help?" Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos is honorary chairman.

REA Board Plans To Capture Some Of World's Fair Dollars

Primed to capitalize on what promises to be a record travel year, executive board members of the Redwood Empire Assn. will meet Friday in Ignacio.

Final plans for a hard-hitting campaign of publicity and advertising, aimed at captivating the touring public, will be adopted when the REA's top echelon meets with President Jack Craemer at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Leaders of the nine-county association predict 1962 will set new records in tourism from San Francisco north to Grants Pass, due in part to the Seattle World's Fair, which opens April 21.

William A. Hynes, chairman of REA's publicity-and-advertising committee, will submit his group's recommendations, reportedly the most far-reaching in the development association's 40-year history.

Luncheon on Friday will be a county-wide affair jointly sponsored by REA and the Marin Industrial Development Foundation. Some 150 local leaders will hear Craemer, Hynes and General Manager Carney J. Campion speak on "Travel Dollars Are Good Dollars."

'Adopted' School Is Given $95

Sir Francis Drake High School students made a Christmas contribution of $95.67 to Drake's "adopted" school in Mexico.

The money amounts to 765 pesos, and will be used for building materials for the school, which will start its school year Feb. 1.

Another money raising project carried out by Drake's school aid committee was the recent sale of student directories, containing the names and addresses of all Drake students. Glenn Reznor, Spanish teacher, is faculty adviser to the committee.

Christmas Seal Total: $29,584

A total of $29,584 was received from the annual Christmas Seal Campaign in Marin County, Dr. Richard S. Hahn, chairman of the 1961 campaign of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., has announced.

Expressing thanks to all who contributed, he said, "It is gratifying to receive this fine response, indicating a wide interest in and approval of the community program of tuberculosis prevention and control."

The funds will be used during fiscal 1962-63 to combat TB and other respiratory diseases.

"Too much installment plan— and then the lid blew off"

One family grew so fast that they found themselves buying everything on the installment plan. Then add a few pressing bills, an insurance premium and a hospital bill — and look out for the big blow.

They found from an ad like this that they could get a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan because they own their home, and could lump everything they owe, pay 'em off and start fresh.

You can square yourself with the world with a loan through Pacific Plan — a California loan brokerage firm—because you repay less each month.

Only $29.92 per $1,000

That's right and you can pay even less depending on the homeowner's loan plan you choose. For example, you can pay back as little as $10.87 per $1,000 on an interest only loan—or up to $29.92 per $1,000 on the fully amortized loan.

And you may take from 37 to 55 months to repay. It costs nothing to find out about a Pacific Plan Homeowner's Loan. We're waiting for your call right now to give you the facts. Phone GL 6-4250
